Foreword

War has come to Sewanhaka in full force during the year.

Defense production class training in which Sewanhaka pioneered has been expanded to include pre-induction training for boys 17 years or over.

Through the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps Sewanhaka has sought to purchase two small jeeps a month.

The necessity for fuel conservation served as a potent reminder to all that we are in a war. This likewise curtailed evening entertainments and athletic events.

The Scrap Drive, the Red Cross and the Book Drive were aided wholeheartedly by the students.

Participation in the many types of helpful war services through such sacrifices and activities has afforded the Sewanhakan ample opportunity to contribute his or her share to final victory.

Pre-Induction

Pre-induction is a program set up here, and in many other schools throughout the nation, with great success. Its primary purpose is to prepare boys of seventeen and over for induction into the armed services. These boys are given the opportunity to select a course of study in a line along which they are best qualified. Some of the courses offered are Navigation, Radio Technology, Meteorology, Drafting, etc. All of the boys in pre-induction take gymnastics in which they are trained in close order drill, calisthenics, boxing and manual of arms.

To add to the interest of those taking advantage of this training, alumni now in service come back to the school and speak of their experiences. They give the boys helpful hints which are not found in textbooks, but which may be just as important and have to be learned otherwise through experience.

A number of alumni who were able to participate in this training in its early stages have been given some marvelous opportunities due to the training they received here.

By offering these courses Dr. Stanforth hopes to make Sewanhakans better soldiers and citizens.

Greetings for 1943 Totem

This is your storehouse of memories
Filled with cans of happy experiences
And joyous recollections.
When the going is tough
And life gets rough
Open this can of pleasant memories
And refresh yourself
By reliving the days
When the "thoughts of youth were the long, long thoughts"
When days were filled with fun, work, little worries, big moments
The days "when all things pleased and life itself was new,
And the heart promised what the fancy drew."

A. T. STANFORTH.

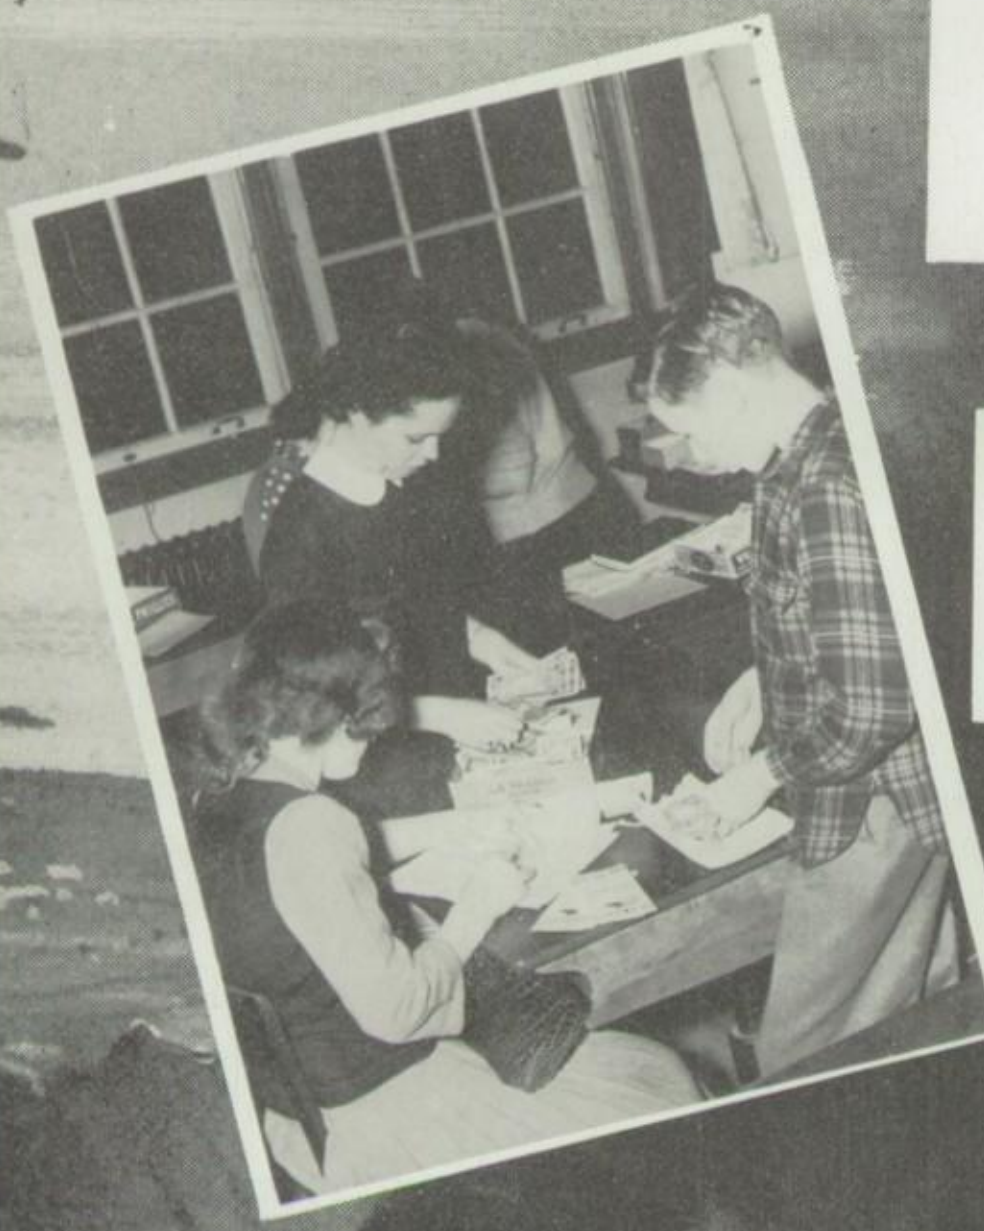
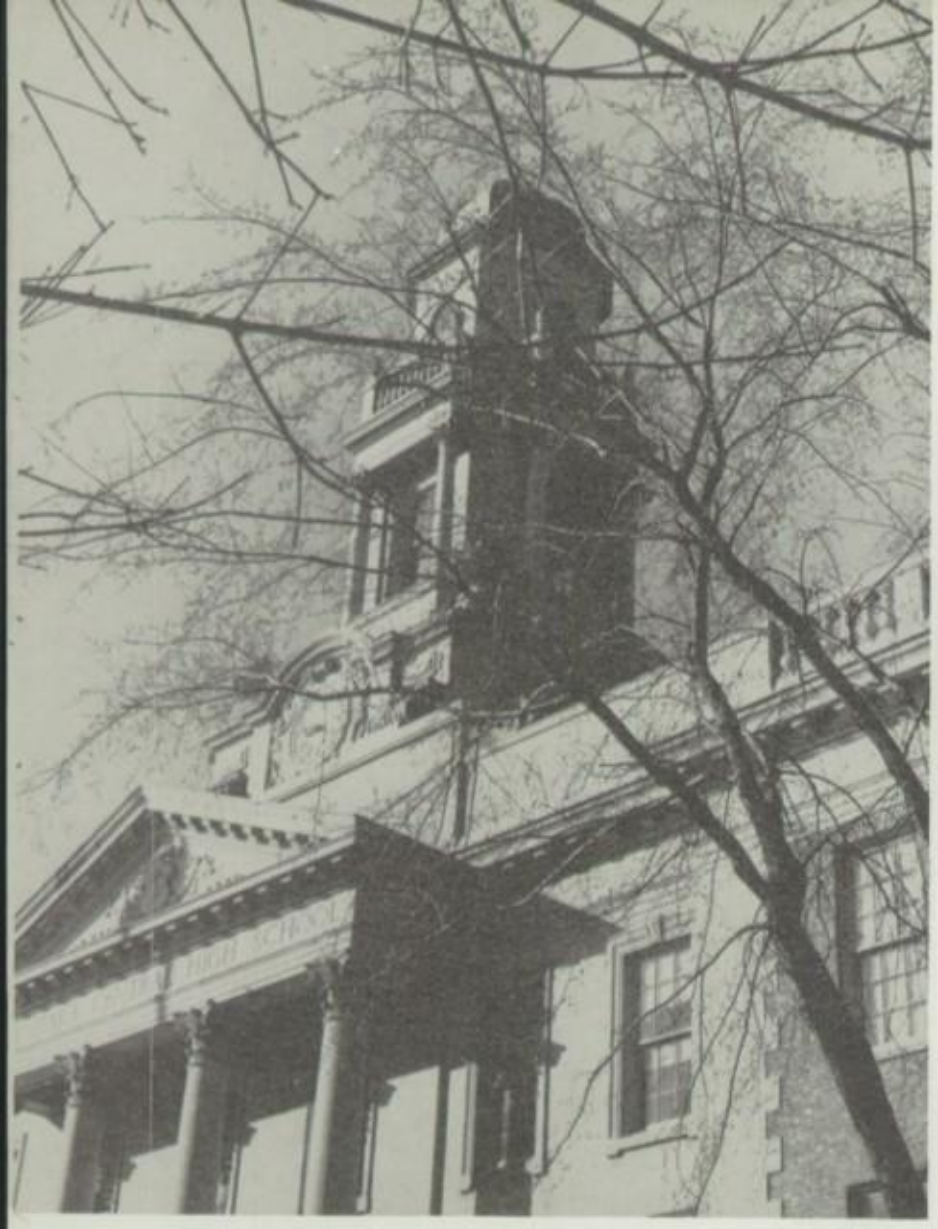
"Fight, Fight," is the theme of Sewanhaka, for the duration, and its students and teachers are certainly living up to this slogan. The Hi-Ys have definitely been active in helping the war effort. They have put over book campaigns, salvage drives, dances for the purpose of collecting scrap, Bundle Week, collecting of keys, etc.



Another one of our successful attempts is the selling of War Stamps to the students. The Red Cross is an activity that every Sewanhakan should be proud of. It is helping our boy's in the service in any way it possibly can. The Honor Society has been very generous in sending our boys gifts to keep up their morale.

Last but not least is the sending of our school paper to our ex-Sewanhakans, who are now serving in the armed forces, to let them know what is going on at their old Alma Mater.

Although the Braves and Squaws of Sewanhaka are doing their bit, you should try to do more and do it better, and before you know it you'll have victory and peace thereafter.



Class of 1946

Beginning its high school life in a war-torn year, the Freshman class wasted little time in electing the leaders who would guide it through the first year. Andrew Meirdeircks was elected president with Michael Trupiano, vice-president, and Valerie Jones and Charles Currithers secretary and treasurer respectively.

Under the careful guidance of Miss Ostrander, the Freshman class began many war-time projects. By this time its members had become acquainted with each other and the school.

The Parent-Reception was the one big function of the year. It was well attended despite war-time regulations and shortages and it proved that the class would do well. Hardly was the Reception over when the Freshmen were planning for their annual Party. This event was very well attended as was the equally successful Reception. Members of the class gave skits, acts, sang songs and danced.

Spirits were high and by February the Freshman class had presented its highly praised patriotic assembly and its bulletin boards were receiving well deserved compliments.

The days were now passing ever so rapidly and the class was beginning to look back to those blustery days when its members attended the football games, cheering for their favorite players, and those afternoons set aside for the basketball games and after school dancing which followed sessions in cool or icy classrooms.

Recalling past events they remembered how plans for a Freshman's Who's Who were revived. At the first regular meeting Joseph McMahon was elected editor-in-chief. They also recalled how they worked with extra energy in doing their part for the war effort.

The days were again falling away in the past and the Freshmen were now near the end of their first year at Sewanhaka. The weeks were becoming anxious ones, for they were preparing to meet those dreaded exams qualifying them for another year of activity and study.

Looking in the past for a last glimpse, they knew it was finished but the Freshmen were proud. They had done their share and they did it well.

Class of

With the elections of officers in June '42, the Sophomores were ready to begin their numerous activities in September. The officers who were elected were: President, Andy Steinmuller; Vice President, Ed Zimmerman; Secretary, Bernice Loew, and Treasurer, Charles Hightower. Under the supervision and direction of Mr. Burhans and Miss Reed, the Sophs had many successful affairs during the year.

Although our nation was at war, the Sophs were determined to carry on to make school life as enjoyable as possible. But they soon realized that it was going to be difficult. Classrooms were much colder, dances were postponed until Spring, and some activities were cancelled for the duration. The Sophs discovered that they had a vital job to do. That job was studying. Although subjects were much harder, they began to buckle down. The grim realities of war began telling in school life. Many boys were called for the armed services and the Sophs, though too young, were anxious to leave their books and answer their country's cali. But they realized that they had to have an education so that they would be the nation's citizens of the future.

However, school life wasn't all work and no play. In November, the day before the Hempstead game, the Sophs held their Rally Dance. This proved to be a success both socially and financially.

Under the direction of Bob Edwards, the Sophs had a colorful bulletin board which was praised by the upper classmen as well as the faculty.

On April 2nd came their big dance, the Soph Hop. Decorations were in spring colors with a huge umbrella over the bandstand and the concessions were camouflaged as Easter rabbits. The Hop proved to be the Soph's crowning achievement of the year. Credit was given to Walt Worthington, chairman, and his committees who worked hard to make the dance the success that it was.

Following the dance came the Parents' Reception. This gave the parents a chance to become acquainted with their sons' and daughters' teachers and activities. On the whole both the parents and the students had an enjoyable evening.

In June came the class elections that ended the year's activities of a class that did much to contribute to the strengthening of school morale.

Junior Class

A few hints were dropped early in the year, perhaps by some worldly-wise senior or even by a knowing teacher, about how busy and how important this, the Junior year, would be. These all turned out to be understatements, or so it seemed to the Juniors.

The year started off with the well-known "bang" with the ordering of Junior Class rings, and the pace didn't slacken until the effects of the Junior Prom had faded away in sleep. Studies became more difficult and somehow homework seemed harder to look in the eye. However, all was not toil and trouble, for the boredom was relieved by such events as assemblies at which the Class of '44 provided entertainment in the form of skits, speakers, and musical diversion by talented members of the class. These were so excellent, it appeared, that they attracted large numbers of Seniors and Sophomores, who "dropped in" to see what was going on.

One of the high points of the social season was the Valentine Dance which was made into a great success by the hard work of the various committees.

Then too, the Junior Board meetings were always well attended, and it was by no means a "dead" organization. Its members started work on the big dance of the year, the Junior Prom, well ahead of time and all arrangements were completed early enough to insure a successful affair. A delightful atmosphere was created by means of new and different ideas. All in all, it proved a suitable climax for an eventful year which had been planned and worked out under the leadership of the following:

Pres. Grace Clark — Vice-Pres. Albert Krug

Treas. Harriet Clark — Sec. Harry Cunningham

Adviser—Mr. Wilder

Senior Class of '43

The graduates of the class of '43 will never forget their last year in high school. Being the first full wartime class, there have been times when things were a little grim for them. Certain pleasures have been eliminated due to the war. But in spite of these wartime hardships the Seniors have managed to wind up their four years here at Sewanhaka in a gay and busy whirl.

The boys of the Senior Class who are in the new Pre-induction course will testify that there is a tough war being waged and that it has finally hit the home-front. Sewanhaka is one of the first high schools on Long Island to successfully introduce this course, a combination of specialized "book-larnin " and "Commando" training. The Pre-induction Course, consisting of classes and a physical education program, is preparing fellows of 17-18 years for military service after graduation. The course varies according to the individual needs of the students. Some of the subjects include map-reading, code, meteorology, math, and shop. One of the subjects common to all is the sometimes well-deserved but nevertheless despised K. P. duty.

But the "Big Shots" of Sewanhaka will also tell you that their Senior year has not been grim with all work. There has been play too. The first big affair on the social calendar was the annual Senior Winter Dance, held this year just before Thanksgiving.

The year 1942 brought about a break in Sewanhaka's tradition. The first January Commencement exercises were held, principally because of the boys going into the service. Already about twenty-five members of the Senior Class are in the Armed Forces serving their country. Most of these have received their diplomas, having achieved the necessary credits for graduation.

To say that the class of 1943 was ably led by President Edward Hightower would be an understatement as all the Seniors will gladly tell you. Ed was assisted by Vice-President Dorothy Dunn and Secretary Harriet Walker. The novel idea of handing out specially designed Purple and White tabs to all Seniors who had paid their class dues made the work of the treasurer, Eugene Fuller, much easier.

Another successful function of the Seniors was their play, "Ever Since Eve", which was a tremendous hit. Although scheduled for only one performance (due to the fuel situation) two were necessary to satisfy the student body. A third was given at the Hempstead USO for the men in service.

By the time April and May rolled around many of the Seniors with graduation in mind, instead of counting sheep at night, were frantically counting credits. Along with these months came also Student Government elections, more important this year because they vividly exemplify the democratic ideals for which our country is fighting.

Again this year the Senior Squaws and Braves were given the opportunity to step into the shoes of the faculty and conduct the business of running a high school. They enjoyed it but soon discovered that the job of a teacher is not an easy one.

The last dance of the year was the all-important, long awaited Senior Ball. This was not only the last dance of the school year but for many Seniors the last dance for quite some time to come.

The Seniors' gift to Sewanhaka was their final gesture toward the school as a class. In the May "Moving Up" assembly the wooden Indian, Sewanhaka's mascot, was handed over to the in-coming Senior Class of '44 as was all the prestige that goes with being a Senior.

The success of the Senior Class in all its activities was largely due to the assistance and timely advice of its advisor, Mr. Eklund, and assistant adviser, Mrs. Mahar.

"For the duration," "because of the war"—these and many other phrases were frequently used this year. They were just a few of the multitude of factors tending to make everyone a trifle grim. But in spite of it all, the graduates in the class of '43 will remember longest the carefree happiness they enjoyed while attending Sewanhaka.

Student Elections

Throughout the year the braves and squaws of Sewanhaka look forward to one thing . . . student elections. That colorful and eventful day arrived this year on May 21.

Approximately six weeks prior to the elections students interested congregate at students' houses to formulate the plans for their respective parties. This year two parties existed, the Progressive Party and the Allied Party. The Allied Party offered as its candidates Peter Ostroff for president, Brenda Wilson for vice-president, Howard McFadden for treasurer, and Joan Tager and Andrew Steinmuller for secretaries. The Progressive Party offered as its candidates Walter Grego, Grace Clark, Al Krug, Charles Hightower, and Bernice Loew for the positions in the above order.

Actual campaigning such as loud speaking systems, pamphlets or any other type of poster or informative matter is not permitted until the week of elections. If this procedure is not kept by any one of the parties that party is fined votes. During the week of elections Sewanhaka is transformed into a ground of political controversies and arguments. Posters, pictures of the candidates, blotters, and throwaways which all advertise the respective party are found in every corner of the building. New friends and new enemies (for a while anyway) are made in this short period of time.

That big day, Friday, May 21, has finally arrived. Parades by each party are seen marching down the streets in front of the school. Speeches are made from sound trucks and everyone is cheering for one party or the other.

The climax of this dramatic week is the special election day assembly. The candidates make speeches explaining the planks and ideas offered by their party. Following the speeches two members from each party enter a rebuttle in which they pounce upon the campaign of the other party. This is all being done amidst constant cheering . . . or otherwise. Following the assembly the students are permitted to vote. This year, for the first time, actual voting machines were used which strengthened the importance of this election day at Sewanhaka.

At 4 P.M. it was announced that the Allied Party, despite a close vote in many cases, had placed all four of their candidates in office. Happiness and sadness prevailed but next year all the students will follow the trend of democracy by taking part in another exciting week of student elections at Sewanhaka.

The Influence of the War Upon Classwork

Perhaps it might be said that the greatest bearing the war has had upon the school's class work has been the awakening of the students to the fact that they too have a job in the war. This cannot be overlooked, for in the classrooms today are to be found the officers and skilled fighting men, and nurses too, that the country may have a desperate need for all too shortly.

Another fact that must receive consideration is the centering of interest about the progress of the war. This may be particularly noticed in a history class which, of course, is influenced by the all-important current historical developments. Indeed, now is the time for the student to grasp the opportunity to

Student

Student Court

Our law enforcing body, the Student Court, was headed this year by Ruth Bassett, Senior Judge; Mable Brown and Alvin Teirstein, Junior Judges; Jeanne Moller and Margaret Leogrand, Court Clerks; Louis Halberstadt, Assistant District Attorney and Zella Lowe, Defense Attorney.

The Court met every Thursday in Study Hall A to judge the cases of student misbehavior reported to the Court by the members of the Girl's Service League and the Hall Squad. The judges alternately presided so that all could show their judicial abilities. The jury is made up of students called to serve on jury duty during the year. Mr. Harold Wright was their advisor.

Government

Student Council

The upper house of the Student Council, our legislative body, consisted of class officers and representatives and delegates from the Hall Squad, the Girl's Service League and the Student Court. Home room representatives constitute the much larger section of the council, the lower house.

A newly formed party, the Allied Party, came into power this year with Donald Heller as President; Theckla Adams, Vice-President; Howard McFadden, Secretary, and Jean Maddox, Treasurer. Kay Blaisi acted as secretary at the lower house meetings. The president presided over the upper house while the vice-president conducted the meetings of the lower house. All legislation had to be voted on by both houses before it was accepted.

The Student Council Bazaar was again one of the prominent activities of the year and so was the Sod Fund Drive put on to raise money to buy sod for the "Dust Bowl." Mrs. Utter and Mr. Nordahl were the advisors.

The Band

The band, under the capable direction of Mr. Charles Hill, has done an excellent job this year. Clad in neat purple and white uniforms, the band was present at all the home football games to play the "Fight Song", spurring the team on.

Transportation difficulties made it impossible for the band to attend all the games played at other schools.

Playing at football games is not the only job the band has. It plays at the Mineola Fair every year, at assemblies, Commencement, Christmas, Spring, and Summer Concerts, and the annual Band and Orchestra Concert.

Due to the war the band has assumed other activities such as playing at many of the Honor Roll dedications and sending the soldiers off to their duties with our music tightening their hearts.

But we have not forgotten our last World War Heroes and also lend our services to various American Legion Benefits.

The band this year consists of 82 members, with Donald Allen as president, John Snyder as vice-president, Anthony Tassi as secretary, and William Henderickson as treasurer.

The Orchestra

This year the orchestra, with Mr. Reino Ahlman as director, has done an excellent job.

In the years Mr. Ahlman has been in Sewanhaka he has built the orchestra up to 60 members.

The first event of the year was the Christmas concert in which some of the selections played were "The Dream Pantomime," from the opera Hansel and Gretel by Humperdink and "The Hill Billy," a collection of patriotic songs starting with the Star-Spangled Banner and followed by other patriotic tunes.

The next event was the Annual Orchestra and Band Concert at which was played "Youths Courageous". Then came the operetta, Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore". This closed a very successful year for the orchestra. Melvin Lustgarten was manager.

Glee Clubs

Ever since the first few weeks in Sewanhaka everyone realized the good job being done by Sewanhaka's Glee Clubs at assemblies, concerts and other affairs.

The one hundred and thirty members of the girls' varsity glee club elected Grace Clark president, Laura Lemmert, first vice-president, Connie Wicks, secretary, and Anna Jean Hennessen, treasurer with Kathleen Reilly, Eleanor Jackson, and Dolores Stocker as librarians.

The boys cast their votes for Don Lyons, Gus Fiederlein, Al Teirstein and Bob Turgeon as president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Their librarians were Fred Rudolph, Herb Frost and Charles Hightower.

One of the proudest days in the life of a member of the Glee Club is the day Miss Donoghue asks him to become a member of the Acapella Choir. This organization has fifty-five choristers selected from the Varsity Clubs. Every year the choir selects the two members who have given the most service to the club. Laura Lemmert and Don Lyons were the ones who received the most votes this year.

Then the time drew near for the Annual Opera Party. Weeks ahead of time everyone was preparing for it, learning the story and the themes. When March 12 arrived "The Marriage of Figaro" was a complete success because all understood every part of it.

Finally it came, the thing everyone was waiting for, the operetta. This year "H. M. S. Pinafore" was presented with Laura Lemmert and Don Lyons in the romantic leads; Grace Clark, Al Teirstein and Leonard Vanella in the other leading roles. Nobody regretted having worked so hard at those long, gruelling rehearsals because all attained their goal in producing a successful operetta. After seeing it, everyone realized that planning such a production needs not only a hard-working chorus but a harder-working director. Miss Donoghue has always been capable in every respect.

The Junior Varsity Glee Club, mostly Freshmen or other students just beginning the intricate study of voice, chose Gloria Wisniewski, president; Valerie Jones, vice-president; and Gloria Logan and Arline McKrutman as secretary and treasurer. Gladys Ruby Wilcox worked in the capacity of librarian.

This year more than ever the Glee Club were called upon for extra work as music plays an important part in the support of morale in this war-torn world. Because it is hard to prepare large groups for so many occasions the Junior trio, Grace Clark, Anne Hennessen, and Laura Lemmert helped out, singing at more affairs than anyone else.

And so we toast the Glee Club ot 1943, and especially their conductor, Kathleen Donoghue, whose achievements have set a precedent for the clubs that will take their place.

The Totem

With supplies used in photography and other materials absolutely necessary for the accurate and proper publishing of the 1943 Totem becoming more scarce, the work of each succeeding year will become more and more difficult. But there is no doubt in anyone's mind that Sewanhaka High School will always have a year-book, The Totem.

This year book is entirely given over to the contribution of Sewanhaka to our present effort in the war. Between these covers you will find pages devoted to the Sewanhakans preparing for the armed forces of our country, more pictures pertaining to contributions to the war effort, and school activities all combined into a year book never to be forgotten. You will also notice a new type of cover designed in blue. white and gold.

Water Grego has been editor-in-chiet. Ruth Young and Charles Glenn were chosen co-advertising editors. The advisers were Mr. George Allen, Miss Cahalan, Miss Kaplan, Dr. Frost, Mrs. Lauro, Mr. Anastasio, Mr. Rolseth and Miss Hammersley.

The Chieftain

You first step into Room 112, the Chieftain room, and what is that banging you hear? Why, that's only the typewriter that the staff has been threatening to donate to the scrap drive. Well, it hasn't been turned in yet, but it wouldn't be surprising if it is in the near future.

The Chieftain has topped all competition in the past five years, receiving the First Place Medal at the Columbia Press Conference and also the Fourth Estate Club, highest award of N. Y. U. School of Journalism. Besides these the Chieftain won a Victory Star Award for promoting and interpreting war stories and aiding in school war programs, and also received all American rating from the University of Minnesota, School of Journalism.

The active staff is as follows: Morton Moskin, editor-in-chief and sports editor; Al Tierstein, news editor; Donald Stewart and Gladys Ruby, associate editors; Irene Pepe, feature editor; Fred Singer, business manager; Janet Belau and Corinne McIlroy were in charge of circulation and Lynn Marcus was copy boy. The art classes did typing and mimeographing. The advisers are Mr. Hugh Flaherty, Mr. Sigmund Sluska, Mrs. Edith Lauro, Mr. Walter Thompson, Mr. Gilbert Hoffman and Mr. Henry Aungst.

Honor Society

The Hall Squad

Honor Society

The coveted posts of President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Sewanhaka chapter of the National Honor Society were held this year by William Dawson, Sheila DePasquale, Paula Correll and James De Bruin respectively. This year the Honor Society sent a gift to each Sewanhaka alumnus in the armed services, collecting the money for the expenses from the students. There are 89 students privileged to wear the "torch of knowledge" pin and to carry the Honor Society pass, attesting to their character, leadership and scholarship. Dr. Salit and Miss Doris Knauss were the advisors.

The Hall Squad

The Hall Squad has been ably led by its co-captains Chris Holderer and Andrew Nunner who are advised by Mr. Nordahl. Many of its members have changed to the pre-induction course, thus lowering the number of boys on the squad. They have been cooperating with the Safety Committee to prevent running in the halls. At times the Hall Squad relieves teachers for other duties. After two years of service a letter is awarded and after completing three years of service a certificate is presented.

The Girls' Service League

The Swing Band

The Girls' Service League

The Girls' Service League did its usual efficient job again this year guarding lockers, ushering, and helping in the office. More than 200 girls were captained by Audrey Jung and advised by Mrs. Utter and Miss Mosso. Hildegard Fehse, Dorothy Dunn and Eleanor Lean were first lieutenants. For the first time in years the Service League secured new gold pins. The ushering service, Miss Mosso's special field, did a particularly fine piece of work, serving at all the plays and other social affairs at Sewanhaka.

The Swing Band

The Swing Band, one of the school's fine entertainment organizations, has been led this year by Don Allen, president; Quentin Snediker, secretary; and Peter Smith, librarian. These boys in turn have been aided by Mr. Clark, their adviser.

The band has played at the Red Cross Dance, Sod Fund Dance and Faculty Basketball games and has also entertained the students at assemblies and at recreation periods In all these functions the members have donated their talents in service to the school.

Epsilon

By selling food at the football games, actively participating in Bundle Week Epsilon Hi-Y upheld its reputation as one of the most enterprising of the Hi-Y Clubs. Its advisor is Mr. Henken. Officers are President, Clarence Loeffler; Vice-President, Edward Hightower; Secretary, Walter Grego, and Treasurer, Graham Pardee.

Delta

Furthering the War Effort has filled Delta Chapter's program. Its members sponsored and participated in the sale of War Stamps and inaugurated a drive to collect pennies. Officers were: President Joseph Carlin; Vice-President, William Dawson; Secretary, William White, and Treasurer, Raymond Poggenburg. Mr. Joseph Brown is the advisor.

Theta

With plans underway for a new review, Theta's members have an active program mapped out. In addition they have participated in Bundle Week. Officers are: President, Anthony Jurich; Treasurer, Thomas Brown. Their advisor is Mr. Brooks.

Omicron

The outstanding contribution of Omicron Hi-Y was the running of a Key Campaign in which old keys were turned in for scrap. Officers were: President, Earnest Steltzer; Vice President, Peter Smith; Secretary, Herbert Frost; Treasurer, Clark Muller. Mr. McElderry advises the club.

Beta

This year the members were strong supporters of the sale of War Stamps and very active in Red Cross work; however, the war has curtailed many of their activities. Officers were: Irene Koecher, Doris Saeltzer, Janis Havins, and Janet Belau. Advisors were: Miss Catherine Smith and Miss Levensaler.

Kappa

Programs included a Freshman Tea, seeing the Broadway play "Janie," giving a party for the Orphans of the Holy Ghost Convent. War-conscious Kappa sponsored a campaign to help the prisoners of war. They were led by Inez Smith, Janice Hargraves and Rosina Dineen. Advisors were: Miss Palmer and Miss Hamersley.

Alpha

Led by President Marilyn Fuss, Alpha participated in the Bundle Week Campaign. Other activities included a Mother-Daughter Tea, a Supper Social and a basketball game between the women teachers and the members. Paula Correll, Nedra Rantch, Nancy Horgan were the officers. Advisors were Miss Penny and Miss Hilkemier.

Omega

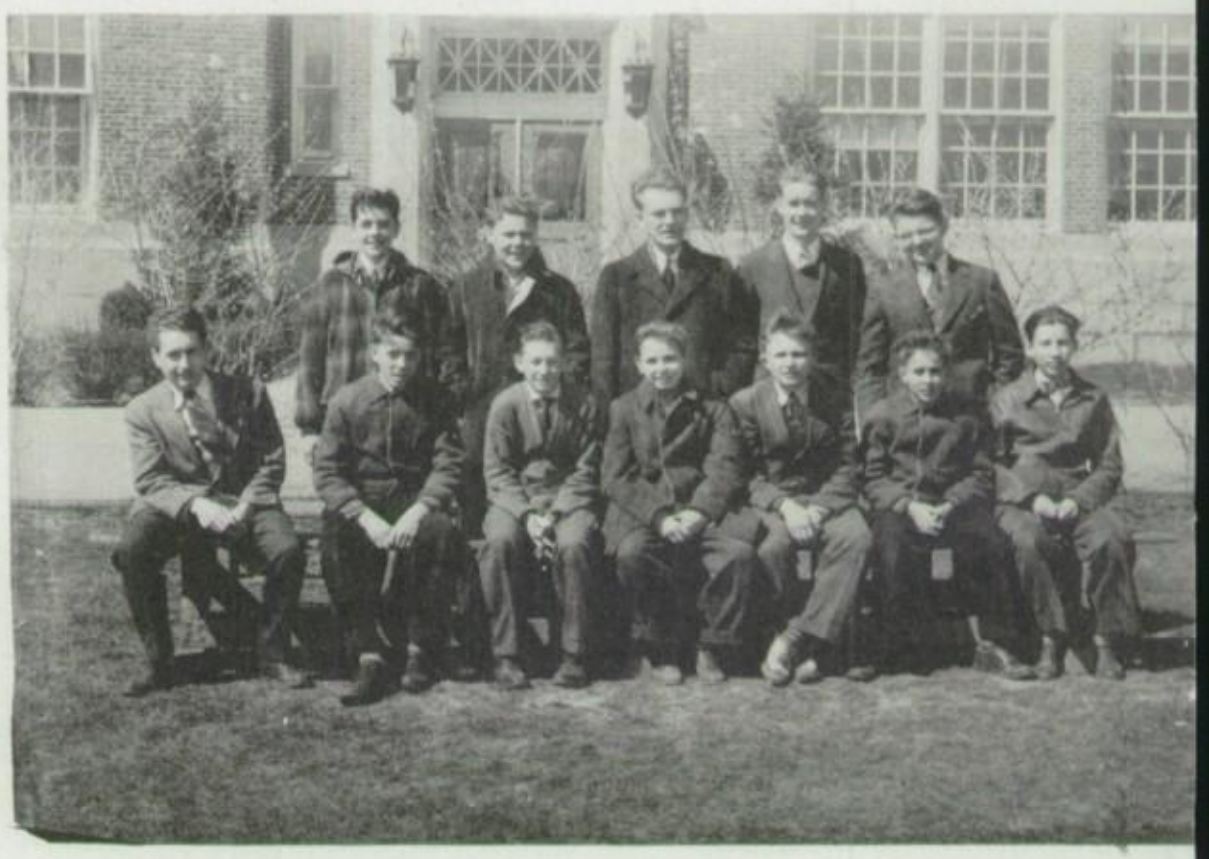
Omega has participated enthusiastically in school activities. Its members ushered in a wartime season by being hostess to Freshman girls at a Square Dance and engaging in the Hi-Y project, Bundle Week. 1942-43 officers were: Janet Hester, Patricia Fairburn, June Hogan, Dorothy McDonough, Kathleen Driscoll. Advisors were Miss Knauss and Miss Reichardt.

Artsmen

Under the guidance of Mrs. Backiel the Artsmen have contributed much to calling attention to school events. During the first period of each day, they meet under the leadership of Flora McKillop and Brenda Wilson. This year their numerous posters were centered on the War Effort emphasizing buying bonds and improving morale.

Pica Club

Every other Tuesday the Pica Club meets to improve the printing technique of its members. This year the club printed the Sewanhaka Handbook and applications for national defense work. The officers were Charles Hansen, William Weisner, Henry Cmbres, Helge Nielson and Frank Fico. Mr. Flaherty and Mr. Whipper were the advisors.



Sachem Players

Each year the Sachem Players, the school's dramatists, present a play. This year the play "Full House" was presented to the school and also for the U.S.O. under the direction of Mr. Grover. With the proceeds they bought a war bond. The officers were Janice Snediker, Eugene Fuller, Irene Pepe and Adeline Lederer.

Agriculture Club

The agriculturists made a trip to the botanical gardens and also had a Mother's Day flower sale. They heard prominent speakers whose topics were about victory gardens and farming. The faculty advisor was Mr. Furbee. The officers were President Fred Von Runnen, Vice-President Lou Stanbrough, Secretary Kenneth Spahr and Treasurer Robert Timmerman.

Ceramics Club

Under the leadership of Miss Helen Kruger the ceramists have made novelty jewelry pieces, pottery and vases. This club also assumed charge of decorating many of the show cases in the school's corridor. The officers of the club were: President, Vivian Wass; Vice President, Doris Mittrach; Secretary, Ruth Zeilinski, and Treasurer, Grace Giordano.

Cheerleaders

Under the advisorship of Mrs. King and Mr. Henken this year's cheerleaders promoted good sportsmanship at all football and home basketball games. They also held a successful dance. Dorothy Johnson and Arthur Johnstone were co-captains of this organization.

Aeolian Club

Membership in the Aeolian Club is limited to thirty girls and is strictly by invitation. Making its debut singing at the Homeroom Mother's tea, this ensemble continued its successful work by brightening up class assemblies, P.T.A. and 'Dads' Club meetings and community affairs. Laura Lemmert and Connie Wicks were the soloists. Miss Donoghue conducted.

"5 S" Club

The Sewanhaka Senior Social Studies So ciety meets every two weeks. The purpos of this club is to promote interest in curren topics, and a better understanding of ou South American neighbors and our Al lies. The officers are: President, Walte Grego; Vice-president, Frank Wickham; Sec retary, Frank Boslet; Treasurer, Murra Astarita and Jean Ellis; Adviser, Miss Ann Grabowski.

The Math Club

Meeting every Friday to discuss and solve difficult problems in mathematics, the Math Club aids in offering advanced training for all those interested. The club holds a social meeting every month. The offlcers were: James Gillen, president; George Williams, vice-president; Victor Lewicke, secretary; and Ruth Bassett, treasurer. Mr. Alfred Anderson was the adviser.

L'Oriflamme

Collecting toys for poor children was L'Oriflamme's feature activity of the year. The club carried on its annual Lily-of-the-Valley sale and did away with refreshments at all meetings as a war measure. Harriet Clark led the club with the help of Sheila DePasquale, Alice Dean and Doris Reynolds.

Accounting Club

The members of this club, all business students, enjoy only a social life at their meetings. Buying stamps to purchase a War Bond for the school at the end of this year was their main activity. John Murphy, Rosemary Citera, Arthur Olsen and Lila Nordland were the officers. Mr. Irwin was the advisor.

Social Science Club

Presenting a movie, the proceeds of which were given to the U.S.O. and the Red Cross, was the main activity of this club. Its members visited a famous historical site for study and discussion. Irene Pepe, Eugene Fuller, Frances Truzzolino and Edith Witkin were officers while Miss Olive Bucks and Mr. Jerome Sherk served as advisors.

Scribes

The Scribes, a group of Senior Shorthand students, had Theresa Kaminski, Julian Goldstein, Dorothy Eaton and Eleanor Lean as officers. This year the Scribes did their part in aiding the war effort. They donated to several clubs and have also undertaken the task of collecting Chieftains to be sent to Sewanhakans in the service. The adviser is Mrs. Mary De Mattia.

Scenic Producers

The "Scenic Producers" are dependable in producing, throughout the school year, scenery, lighting effects and special sound effects. These are indispensable in producing interesting shows for Sewanhaka's students and friends.

The Club is directed by Edward Hoffman, Manager; George Linekan, Secretary; and Thomas Mistrella, Treasurer, and is under the capable adviserships of Mr. Grover.

Library Club

Besides the annual sales of Christmas wrappings, shamrocks and the Victory Book Campaign, the Library Club gave an assembly for the Sophomores during Book Week. Patricia Cook, Kathleen Driscoll, Irene Buongerina and Rosemarie Ely were the officers. Miss Duncan was the advisor.

Varsity Club

With Bob Grygo, Bob Brown, Frank Wickham and Howie MacFadden as officers, the Varsity Club had an active year. Selling ice cream and candy at the games, the Faculty Game and a roller skating party kept them busy. The advisors were Mr. Irwin and Mr. Kumerow.

Red Cross

The attainments of the Junior Red Cross this year were: the annual Roll Call, filling stockings for the veterans, and raising money for the War Relief Fund. The officers are: Doris De Lackner, Rovert Hudders, Betty Shenkler and Nickolas Pinchuk. The advisor is Mrs. Geller.

Photorealists

At their meetings the Photorealists conduct experiments and have lectures and discussions on photography. Many of their pictures appear in the Chieftain and the Totem. Don Allen acts as provisional president and Bob Nastasi, Treasurer. Mr. Paul, advisor since January, is taking the place of Mr. Schlesinger.

Merchandising Club

The Merchandising Club of Sewanhaka High School was organized in January, 1942. The officers are: President, Santa Graffeo; Secretary-Treasurer, Helen Karpwitz; and Publicity Director, Violet Latsko. The club won the first prize at the bazaar last year, and contributed $100.00 to the Sod Fund, $10.00 being a direct contribution from the Scribes. There are approximately forty members in this club. Mr. James Firth is the adviser.

Bookmen

This, a comparatively new club, is eager to do its part in upholding Sewanhaka's standards by helping the library in its spare time. The club is composed of a group of boys who enjoy reading and library work.

The officers are Robert Kamps, Walter Worthington, Ronald Stagg, and John Denton.

Miss Elizabeth Allen was the adviser.

Squaw gains experience in local department store

Sewanhakans in the Post War World

After the war, what will happen to our Sewanhakans? This is a question that the school is attempting to answer now.

Sewanhaka has arranged it so that its Braves and Squaws are being taught many successful trades. Now, you ask what sort of trades could a high school possibly teach that would prove important after the war? If I were to answer this question and tell you about everyone of our trades, I would probably be writing endlessly, so therefore I find it possible to tell you about only a few of Sewanhaka's courses.

To begin with, the school principal has arranged it so that girls taking the Retail Selling course may go out and work in department stores for practice. The engineering trades will prove important after the war, so Sewanhaka has arranged for its Braves to take this course.

Girls who are taking beauty culture and home making courses are considered smart for this will be a good business after this war.

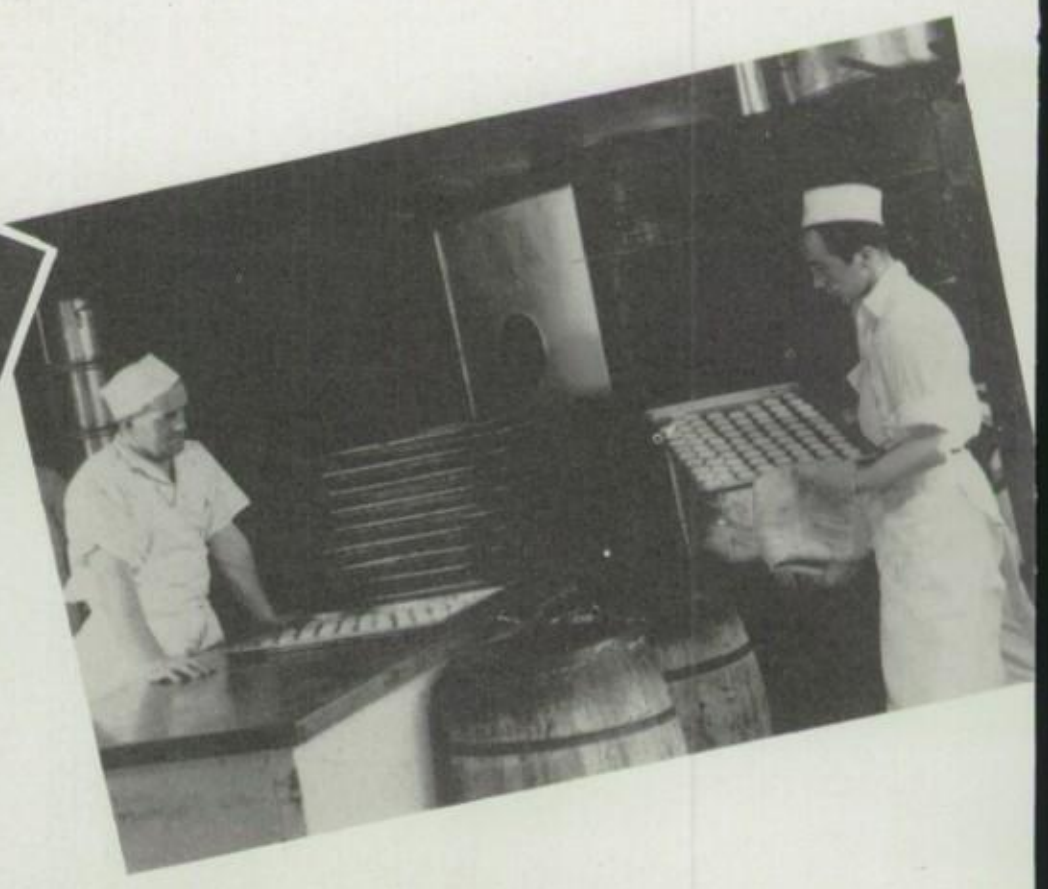
Photography—a field for the future



When we visit our local banks nowadays we probably find our commercial students working. The reason for this is that when our Seniors graduate and start looking for positions they can then say they have had experience.

After we win this war America won't have to worry about its people not being able to get started in business again, because with Sewanhaka and other schools teaching students, promising trades, America can't possibly fail.

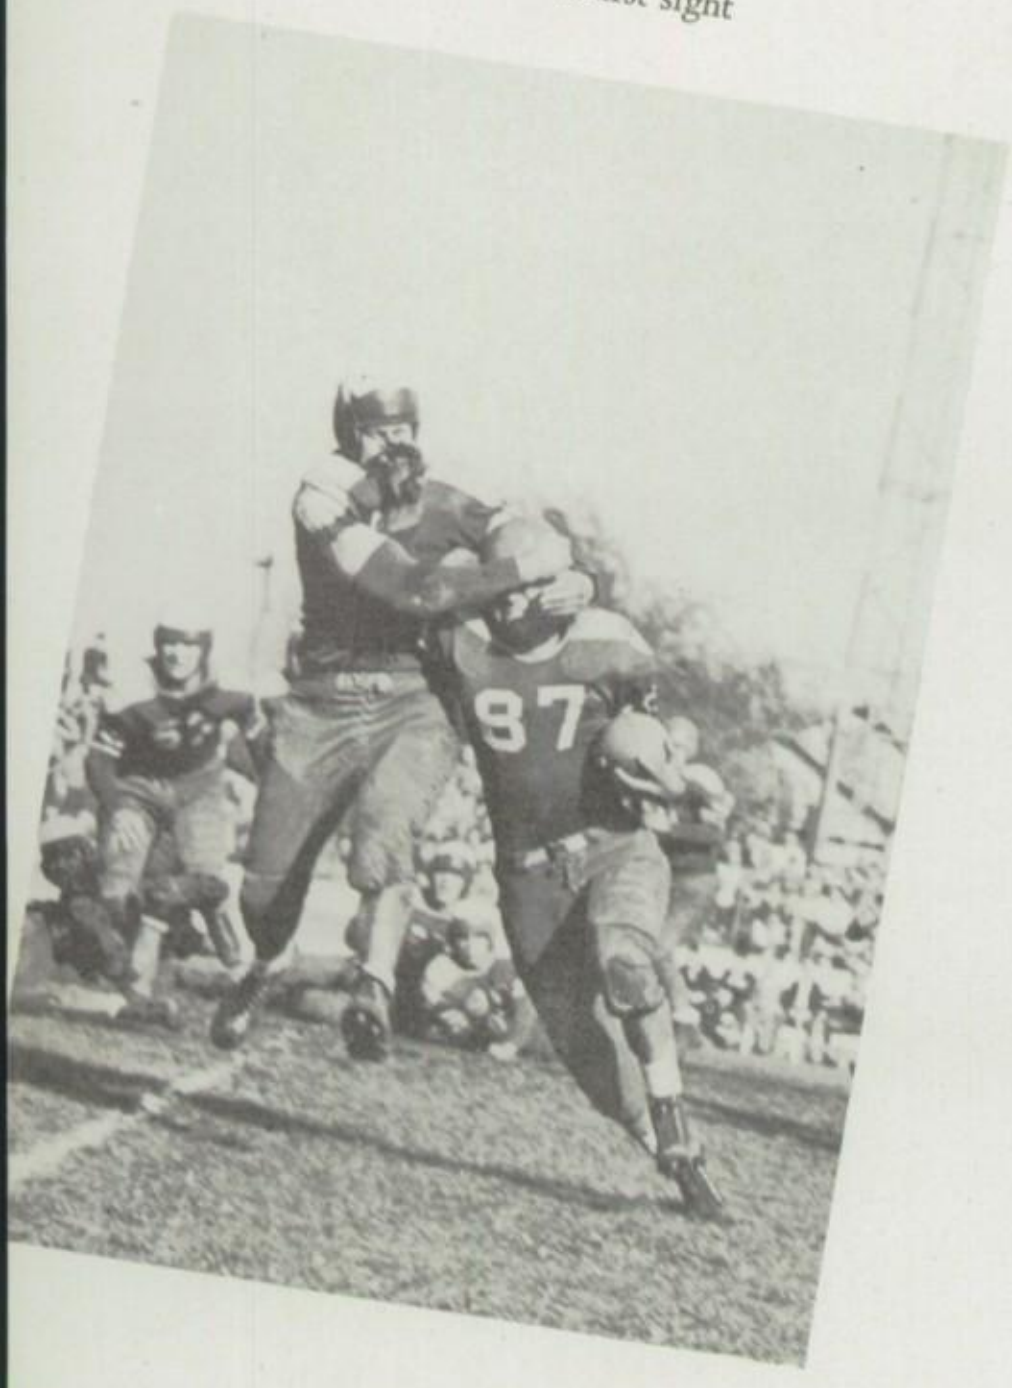
Love at first sight



Football

Winning two games and losing six, Sewanhaka's football team completed its worst season in history.

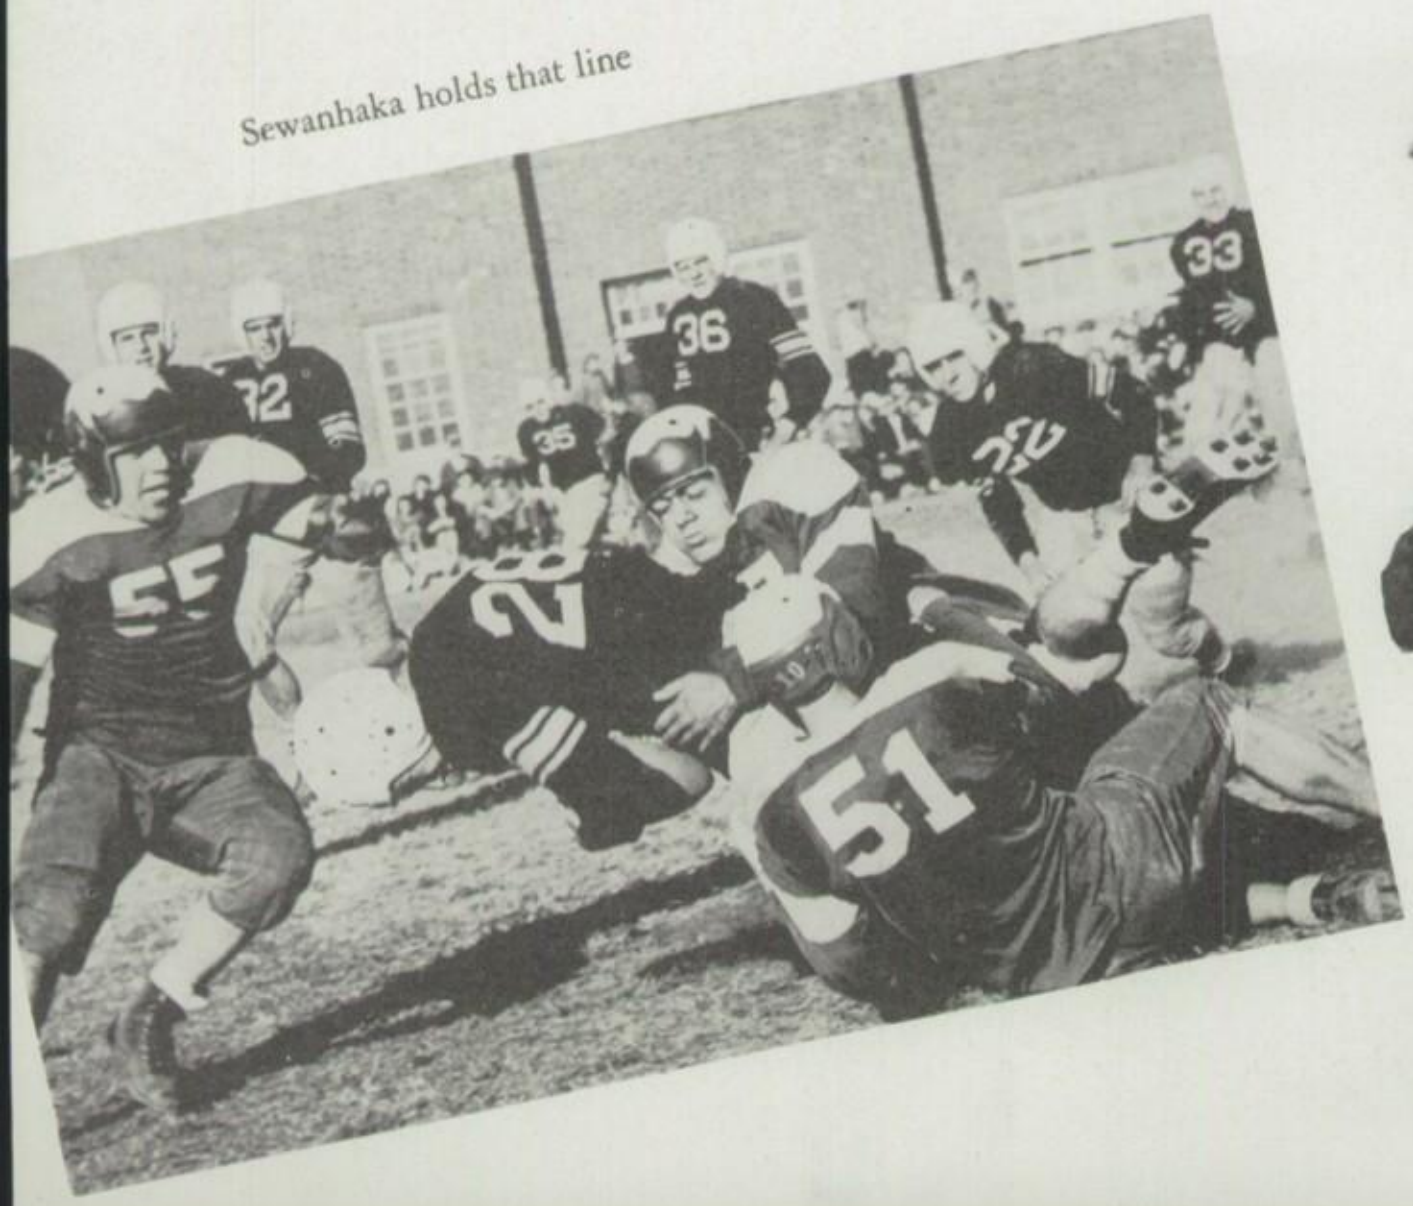
The Tribe opened the campaign by journeying to Valley Stream where they were set back, 13-6, on two long passes in the fourth quarter. Sewanhaka's lone touchdown came on a 37 yard heave from Walt Watson to Mike Trupiano.

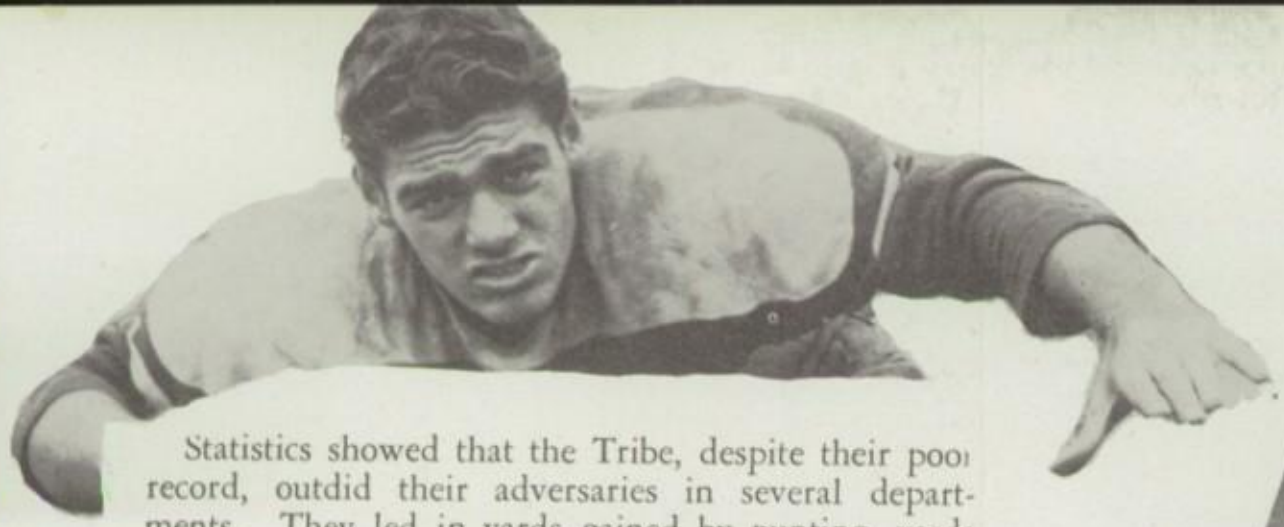
Following this defeat the footballers returned home to annex their initial triumph of the season over Mepham, 25-21. Trupiano, Watson, Ingarra and Guariglia scored for the Purple.

On October 10 the second and last Indian victory was notched in the record books. Oceanside fell prey to the 14-0 assault which was featured by 25 and 62 yard touchdown runs by Ingarra.

Hempstead invaded the reservation the following week and marched off with a 13-0 victory. Freeport, Chaminade, and Westbury were the next to overcome Sewanhaka, winning by 20-7, 19-0, and 13-7 respectively. The Warriors concluded their season by losing to Lawrence, 25-7.

Sewanhaka holds that line





Statistics showed that the Tribe, despite their poor record, outdid their adversaries in several departments. They led in yards gained by punting, yards gained by passing, yards returned on kickoffs, and the least number of fumbles. They came remarkably close to their opponents in a few other divisions also. Most noteworthy among these was the first downs department, in which the Purple trailed by only three, 69 to 66.

Individual totals found Joe Ingarra leading in yards gained with 2'5 to his credit. Tom Nolan, who only carried the ball on ten occasions, had the best average for yards gained per try with 4'5, while Ingarra also led in points scored with 19.

The Junior Varsity meanwhile went through its best season since its inception, winning three games from Oceanside, Hempstead, and Valley Stream, tying once with Mineola and losing one to Freeport.

Mr. Albert Twitchell, returning to Sewanhaka after a long absence, coached the varsity. Mr. Edward Carter was assistant coach, while Mr. Carl Falkiner, who has since entered the armed forces, was the J. V. mentor

Basketball

It seems as if the basketball team is handicapped by a jinx every season. Two years ago it couldn't win in the afternoon, last year it couldn't win away from home, and this year it just couldn't win. The cagers lost seventeen games out of the eighteen played.

The hoopsters opened their campaign on December 4 against Mepham and emerged from the battle on the short end of a 42-29 score. Bert Mulligan, who left the team in mid-season via graduation, was the high scorer with 15 points to his credit.

The following game found the Indian quintet engaging Great Neck on December 8. This date marked the first and only win registered by the Braves who triumphed by a 42-37 score. Once again Mulligan was the high man with 9 field goals for 18 points.

Following this victory the basketballers embarked upon a sixteen game losing streak which carried them through the remainder of the season. They succumbed to Woodmere, 50-25; Westbury, 36-14; Woodmere again, 51-24; Lawrence, 57-33; Hempstead, 57-23; Richmond Hill, 48-32; and Lawrence, 62-29. They then bowed to Chaminade, 76-29, suffering the worst beating in their history. The game also marked the highest-scoring battle ever played on the Flyer court. Oceanside was next on the list and the Sailors scored a 30-19 win. South Side followed with a 38-21 victory; Hempstead triumphed, 47-22; Chaminade came through once more, 49-33; Valley Stream won 49-35; and Freeport romped, 51-22. The second time the Purple faced the Red Devils the score was somewhat closer as Freeport won in the final minute of play, 30-28. The cagers concluded their season by succumbing to Oceanside by a 38-36 margin.

John Gunderson led the Purple five in scoring as he totaled 96 points. Bert Mulligan, although he saw action only in eight games, followed Gundersen in tallying with 81 points to his credit.

Mr. Edward Carter replaced Mr. Lawrence Clarke as coach of the squad. Mr. Ralph Rolseth coached the Junior Varsity which won three games and lost six.

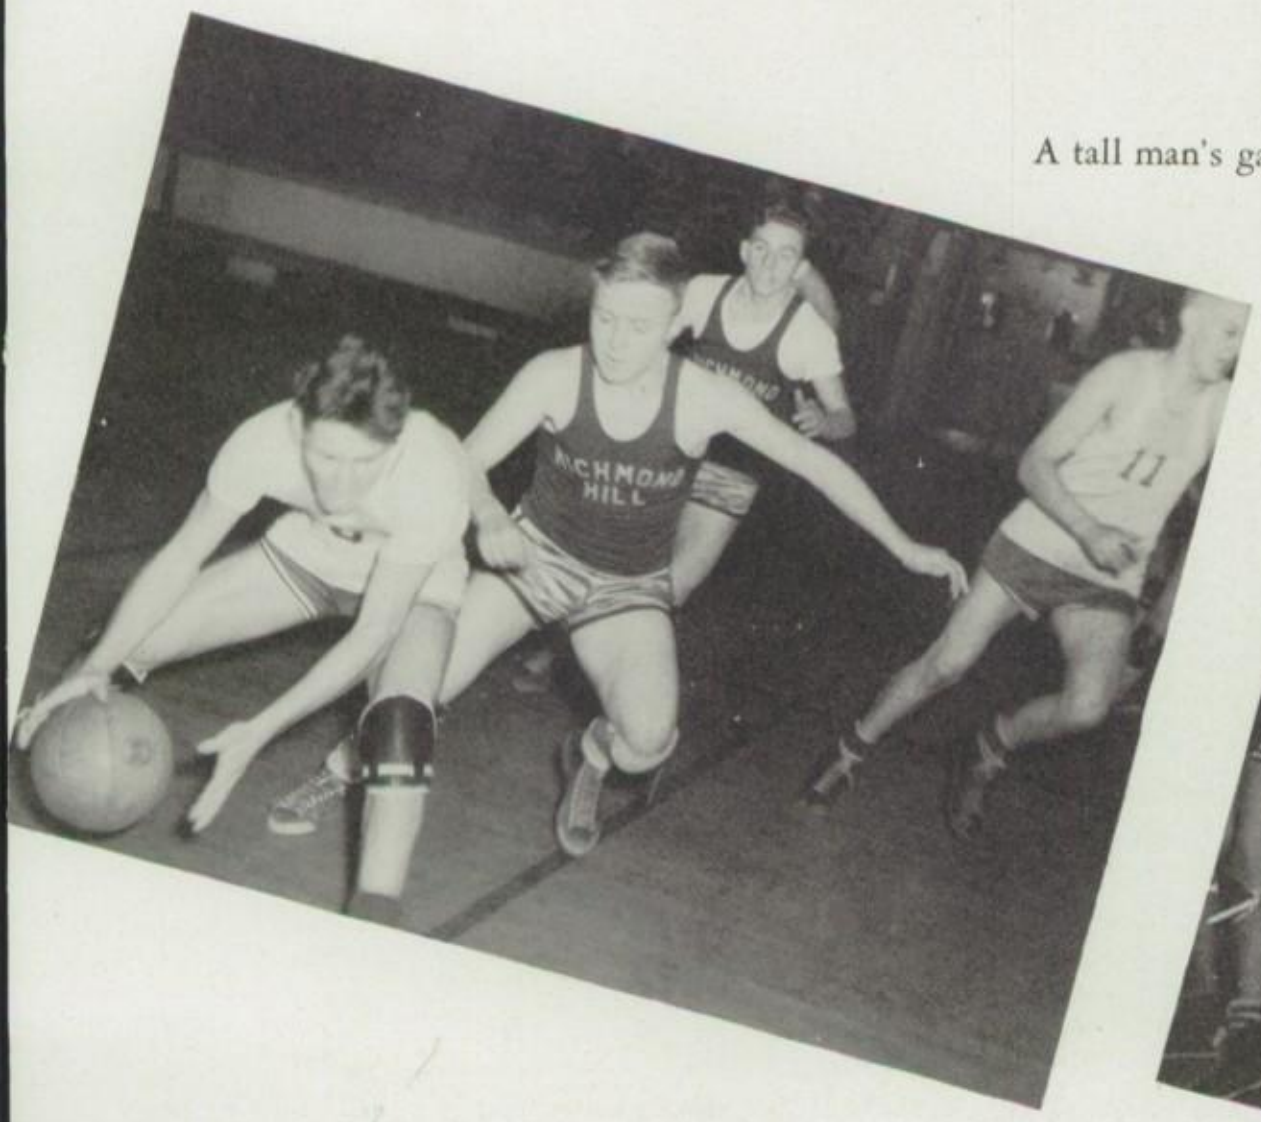
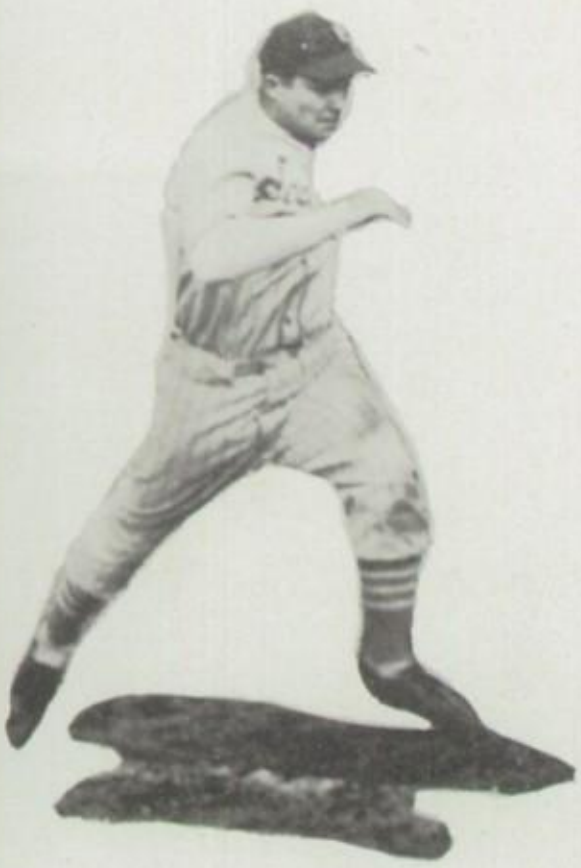
A tall man's game



Baseball



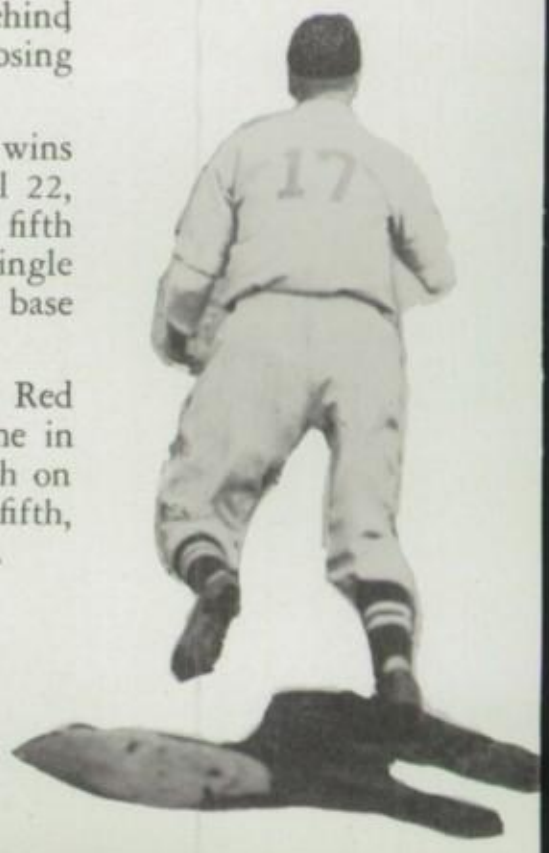
Sewanhaka's baseball team gained momentum as it went along and, despite a poor start, seemed headed for a highly successful season.

It opened its campaign at Mepham, losing in extra innings, 6-4. Nick Andromidas pitched the whole game for the Tribe and was charged with the defeat.

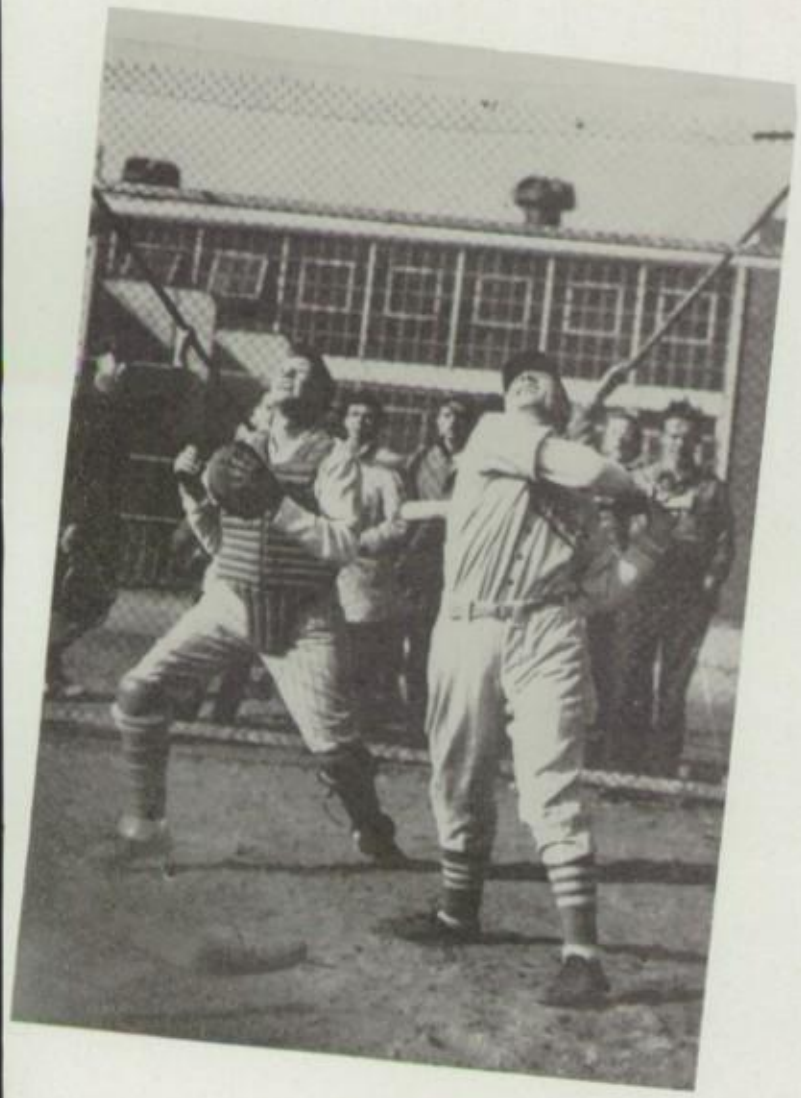
Losses to Andrew Jackson and Hempstead followed. Jackson triumphed, 4-1, and Hempstead came from behind to win, 5-3. Dave Shelley and Andromidas were the losing hurlers.

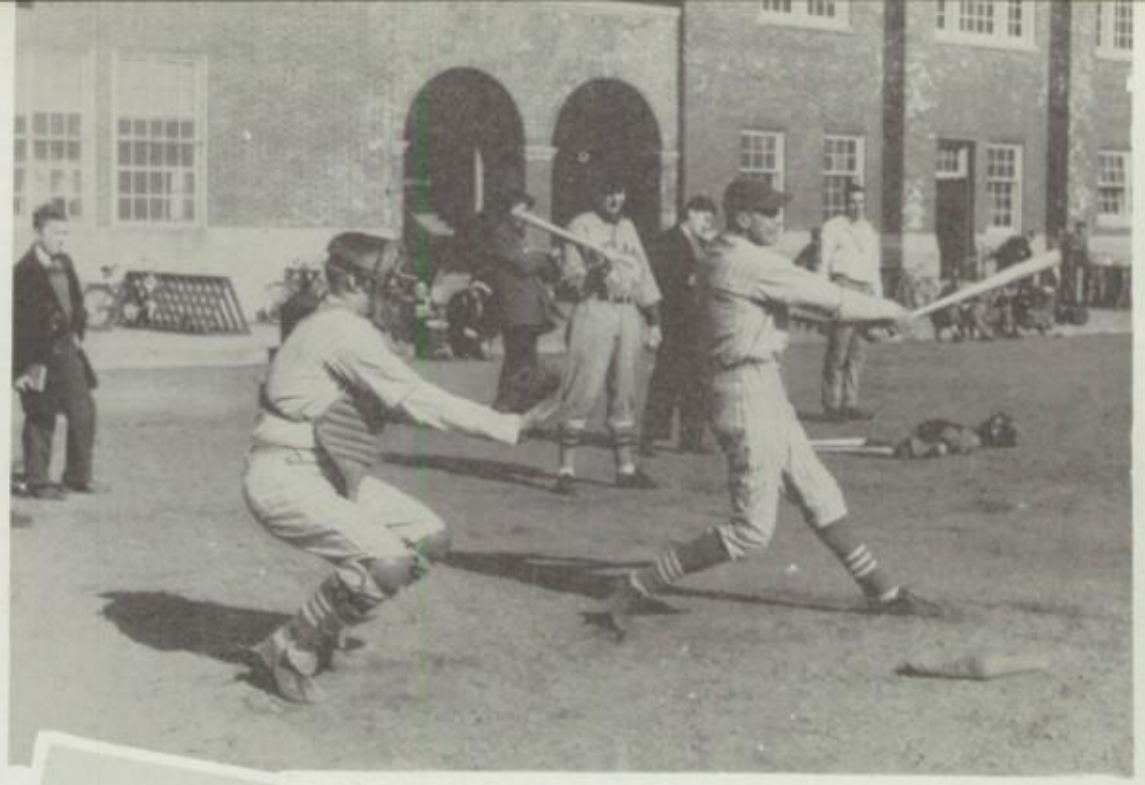
From then on it was clear sailing with five straight wins ensuing. The streak started against Freeport on April 22, when the Tribe triumphed, 4-3. Three runs in the fifth inning on a hit batsman, a double by Abe Hansen, a single by Jim Devine, another hit batsman, an error, and a base on balls provided the margin for victory.

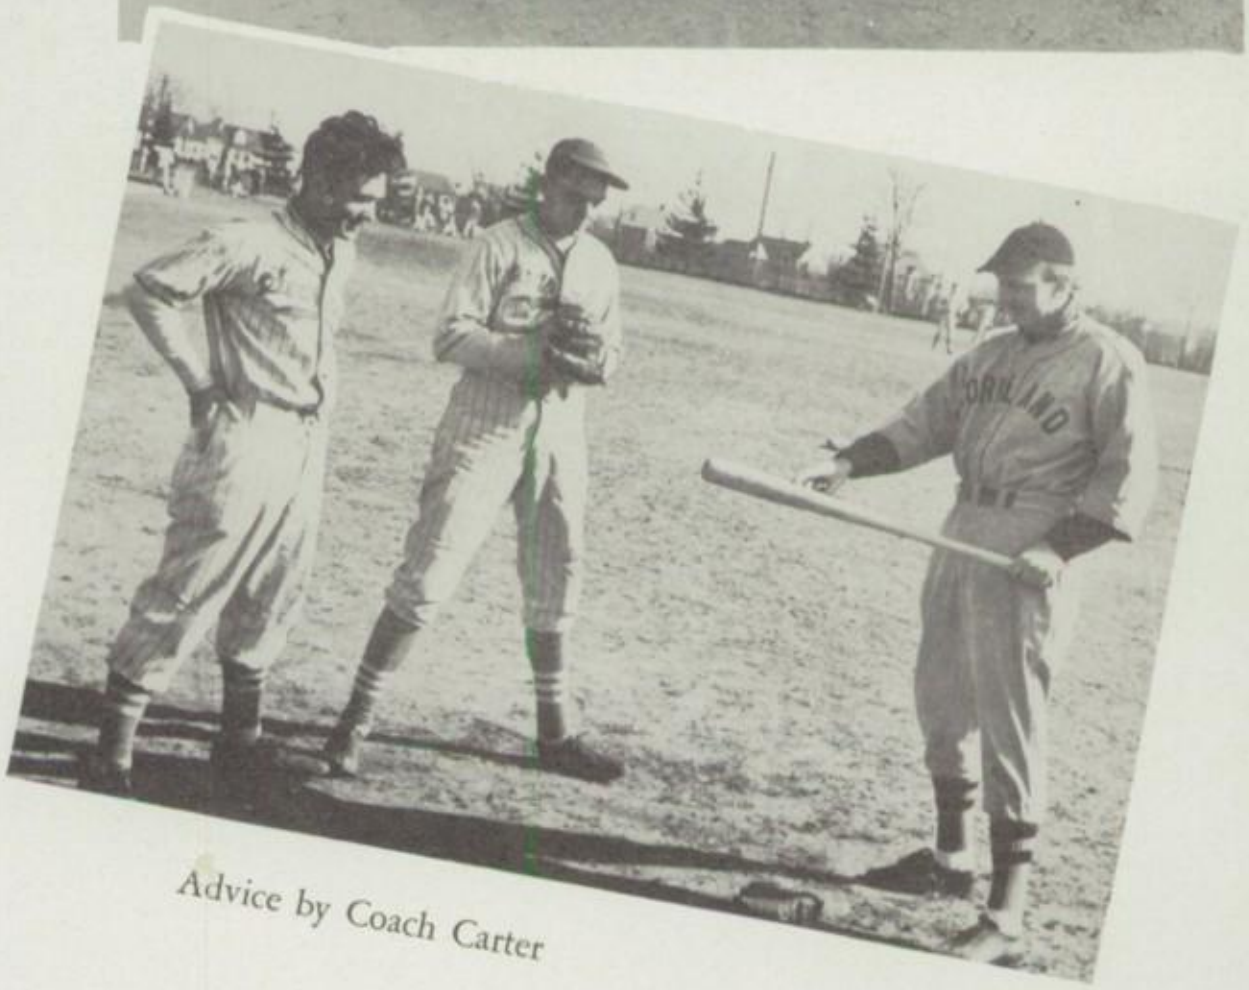
The second win was also scored at the hands of the Red Devils who bowed 6-3. All of Freeport's tallies came in the first inning. The purpose scored twice in the fourth on Andromidas' homer with a man on, three times in the fifth, and once in the sixth on Vinnie Iannuzzi's four master.



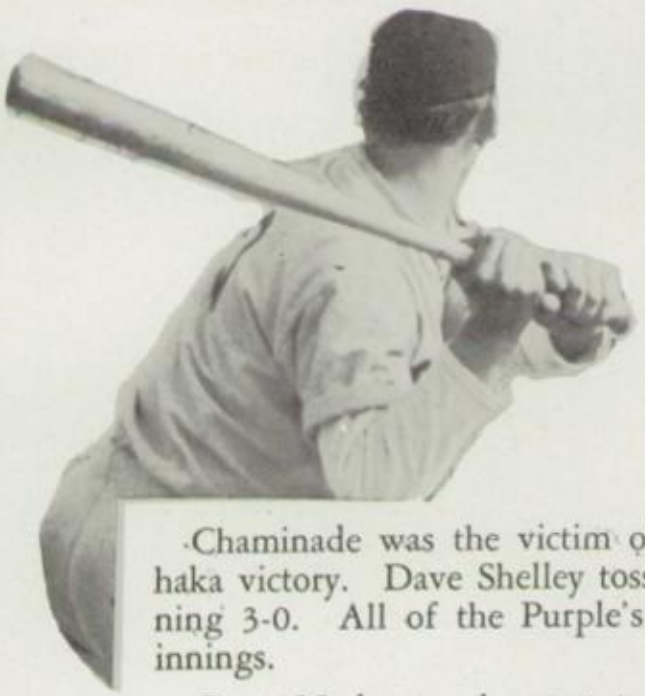
Over the fence







Advice by Coach Carter

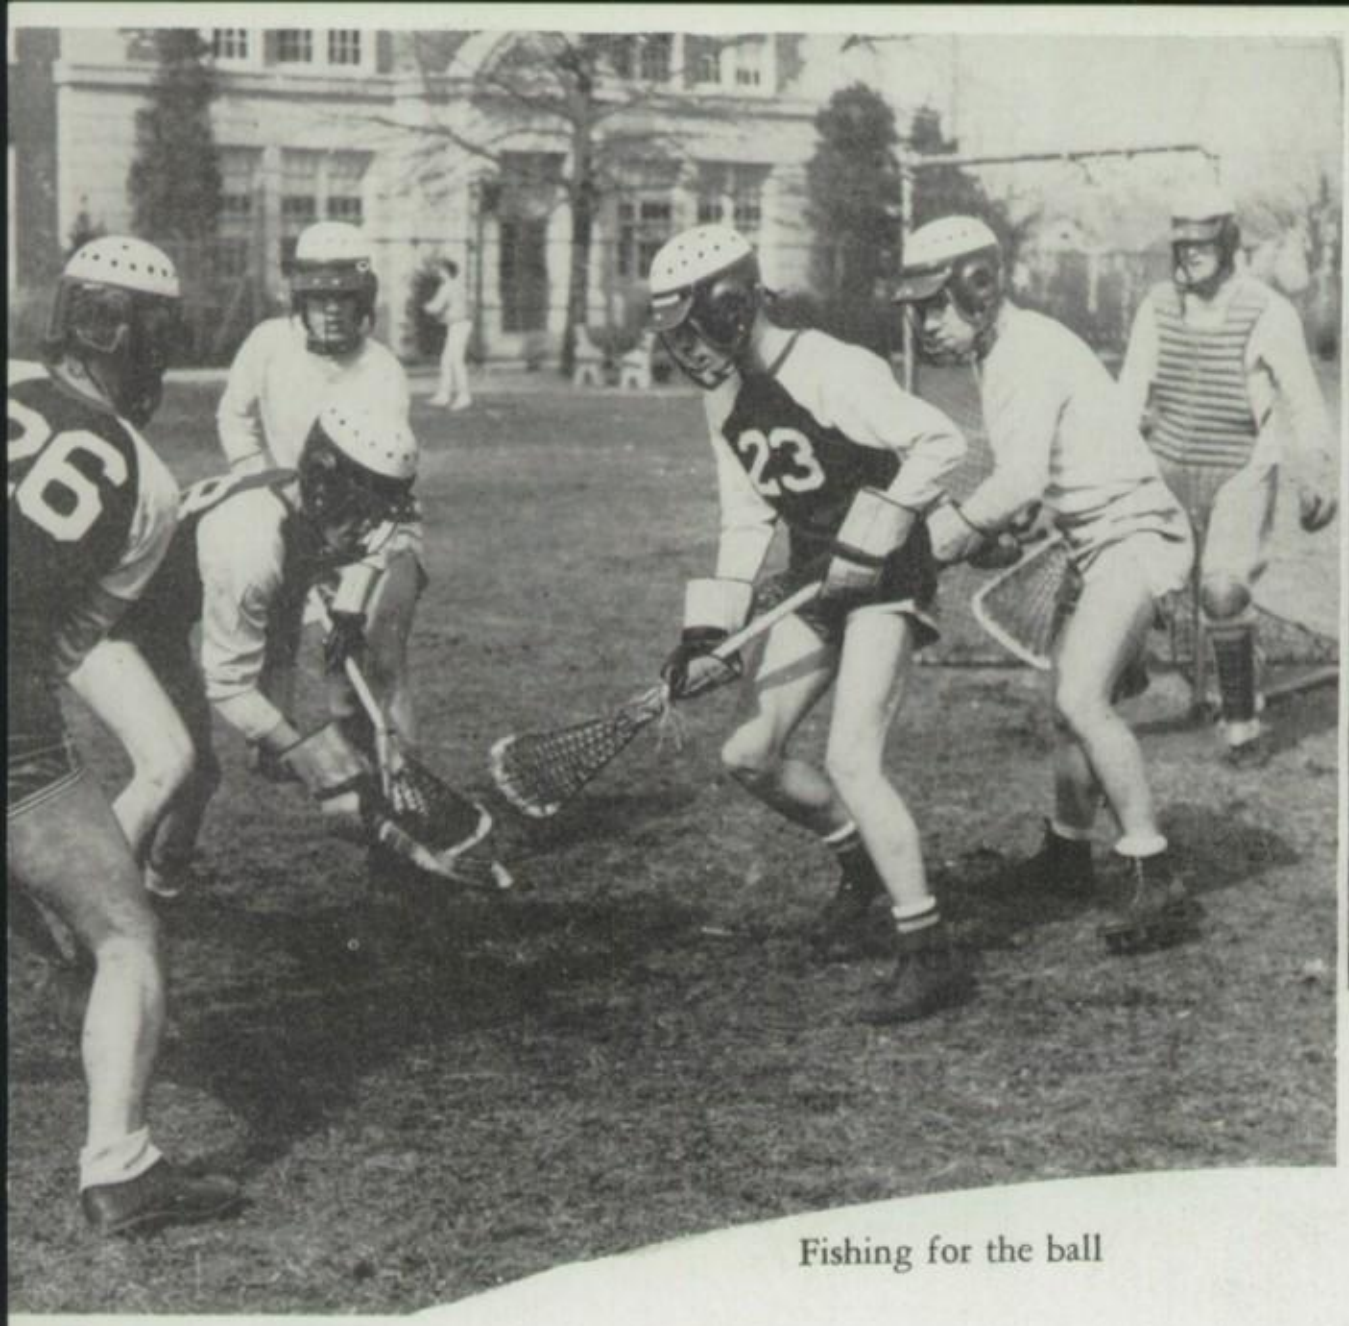


Chaminade was the victim of the third straight Sewanhaka victory. Dave Shelley tossed a four hit shutout, winning 3-0. All of the Purple's runs came in the last two innings.

Great Neck was the next to be defeated. Andromidas whitewashed the Great Neck nine, 6-0, with all of the Warriors' runs coming in a big sixth inning uprising.

The fifth team to be vanquished was Lawrence, which lost 8-3. The Tribe led all the way behind the three hit pitching of Shelley and Andy Meierdiercks. A home run by Andromidas was the big blow.

Mr. Edward Carter was the coach. Last year Mr. Alfred Kumerow, athletic director, held the position.



Fishing for the ball

Lacrosse

Nolan passes

The Lacrosse team is engaging in what looks to be its most successful season since the sport was inaugurated at Sewanhaka, eight years ago. Previously, no Lacrosse squad had won more than four games.

The stickmen opened their season on April 29, at Garden City, beating the Maroon ten, 5-3. Jim Guariglia scored three goals, Fred Bargetze accounted for one, and Gordon Satterley tallied the other.

Poly Prep was the next to bow to the rampart Indians, succumbing 15-6. Guariglia again led in scoring with four goals. Satterley and Tom Nolan each had three.

New York Military Academy was the victim of the worst rout in recent years, falling before the Purple onslaught, 17-1. The Tribe had a 17-0 lead before the Cadets even tallied. Guariglia, Art Wider and Jim Ruch had three goals apiece.

The next game, played on the reservation, saw the Indians lose for the first time. Manhasset was the victor, nipping the Warriors 8-7. Satterley tallied five times to lead the scoring parade. Sam Stemple, goalie, had nine saves. Still another game was forthcoming with Manhasset but it had not been played as the Totem went to press.

Going up

Meanwhile, the Junior Varsity had lost both games it had played. It lost to Poly Prep's J. V. 4-0, and bowed to Manhasset's papooses, 6-2.

Satterley is the leading scorer to date with eleven goals. Captain Guariglia has ten to his credit and Art Wider has five. Tom Nolan has four, Jim Ruch has three, and Art Weese has three.

In addition to the six players mentioned above, other performers include Monte Miller, Fred Bargetzi, Joe Carlin, Clark Muller, Ed Beirlien, Sam Stemple, Graham Pardee and Ed Dean.

Mr. Albert Twitchell coached both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity this year, replacing Mr. Howard Nordahl whose increased duties as Dean of Boys brought about the change.

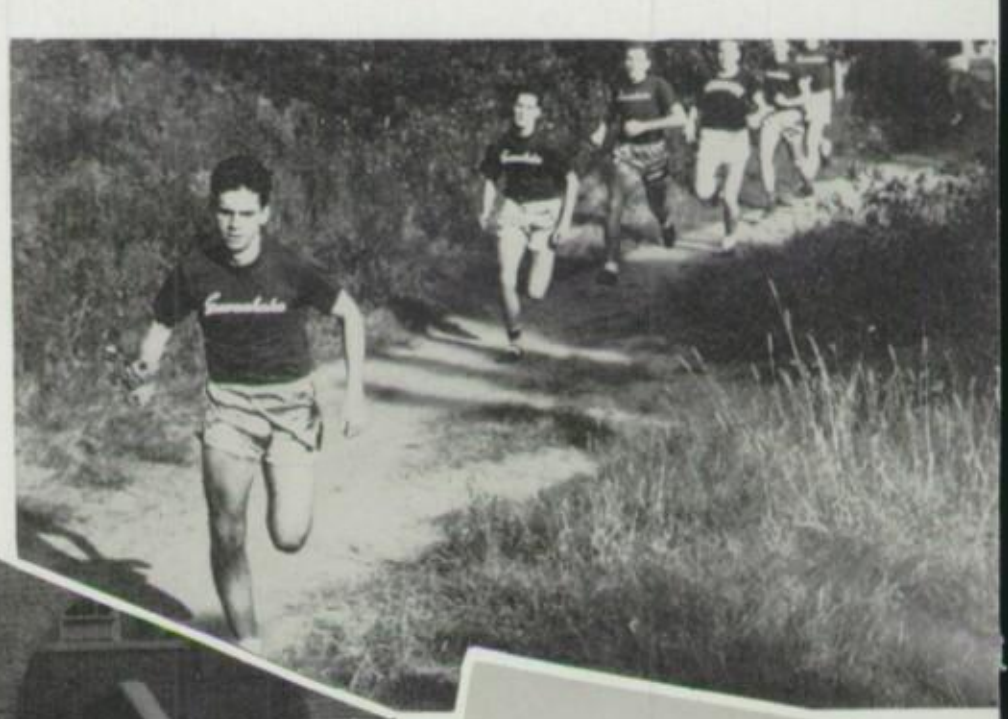
Where it lands, nobody knows

Track

Participation in two meets found the track team behind but with hopes for jumping ahead to a successful season.

The team lost to Freeport in its first start, 64-33, scoring only two first places. Dick Cramer was responsible for both of these with wins in the 220 yard hurdles and the broad jump. The spikesters followed this by coming in second in a triangular meet with Valley Stream and Mepham. They managed to take five firsts this time but failed to cash in on the place and show positions with enough frequency to win. As it was, the Tribe totaled 39 points to the victorious Valley Stream's , and last place Mepham's . Five meets still remained to be run but the Purple shaped up as the underdog in at least four of them.

Earlier in the year some of the cindermen had participated in cross-country and indoor track. The cross-country squad did fairly well in the fall.



Track

It started off by losing to Mepham, despite the fact that Henry Wocker, Sewanhaka captain, traversed the 2-2/5 mile course in 12:08 minutes to come in first, but followed by defeating Garden City and La Salle. Four Sewanhakans, Wocker, John Mellovold, Al Witzig, and Jim Fitzpatrick, finished in a dead heat for first against Garden City, while Wocker, Mellovold, and Fitzpatrick crossed the line in a triple tie some 300 yards ahead of the nearest opposition in the La Salle meet.

Sewanhaka then beat Malverne, South Side, and Garden City in a four way meet, bested Oceanside with six Indians deadlocking for first, lost the County Championships to Mepham, and dropped the last meet of the season to Valley Stream.

The indoor track team, entering its third season, originally scheduled seven meets, but due to war-time conditions only ran in two. Eight members competed in the Knights of Columbus meet and the Schoolboy Nationals.

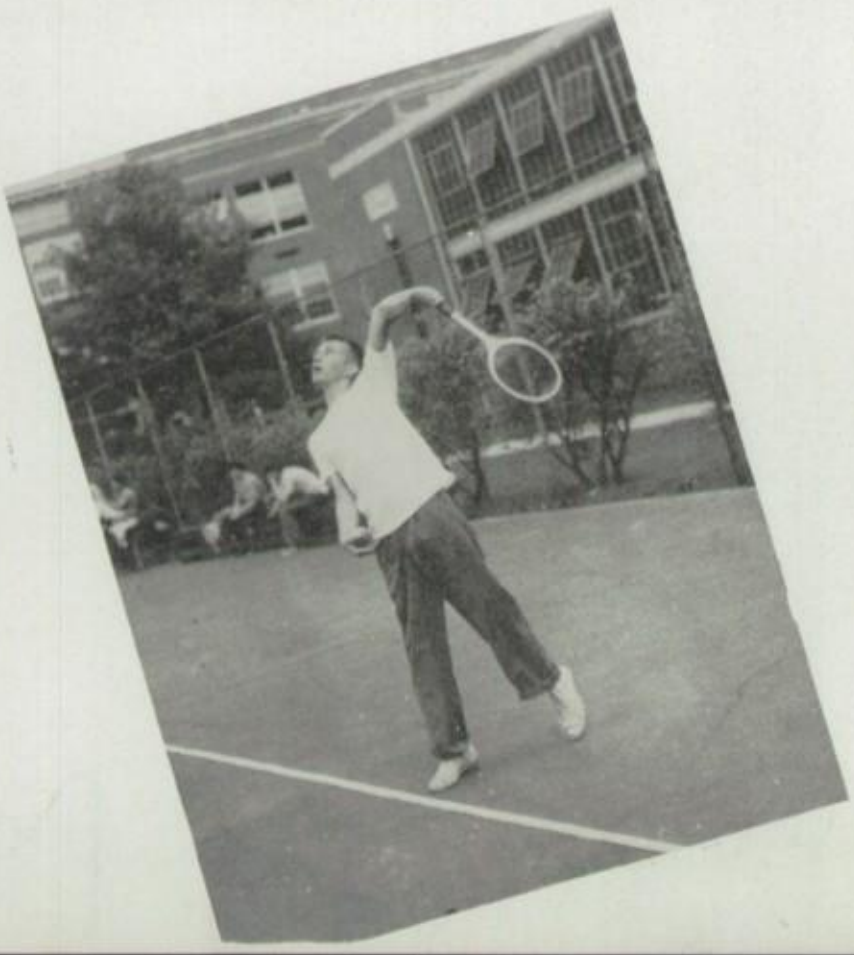
Mr. Ralph Roseth coached the cross-country and track teams, being assisted in the latter by Mr. Bridgett Montgomery. Mr. Sigmond Sluszka coached the indoor squad.

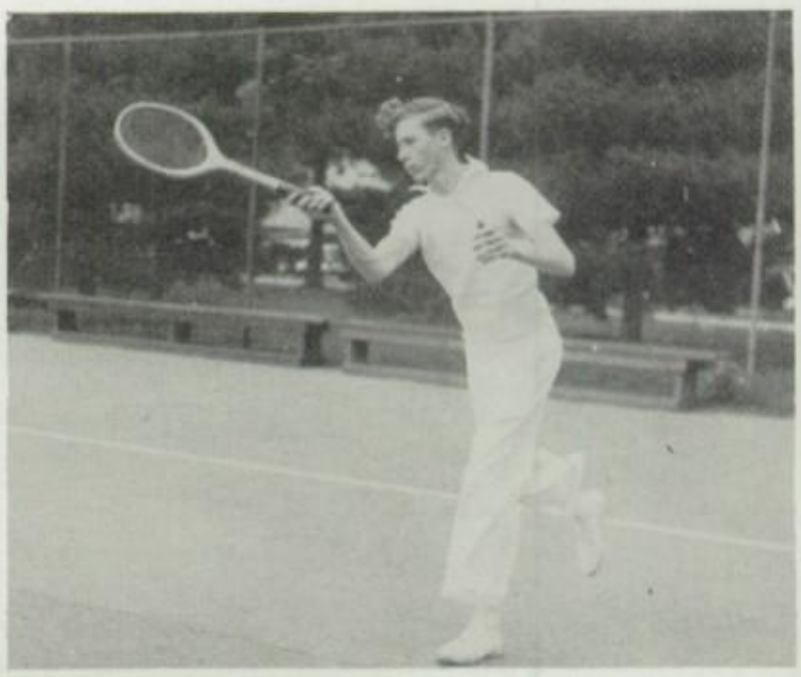
Tennis

The tennis team inaugurated Sewanhaka's official entrance into the South Shore Athletic League during the past spring.

Traveling to Lynbrook for their league opener on Tuesday, May 4, the netmen returned home on the long end of a 5-0 count. Claude Burk, Paul Lynner and Arvin Rendel handled the singles and in six sets gave their opponents a total of only three games. Following this, "away" matches were held with Southside, the defending champion of the previous year, and Lawrence, while Valley Stream and Baldwin were met on the home courts. In non-league competition Garden City was met in a "home and home" series.

In addition to Burk, Lynner and Rendel the team was made up of Julian Goldstein, Frank Wickham, Donald Stewart, Bud Brandin and Ray Poggenberg. Mr. William Irwin was in charge of the team.





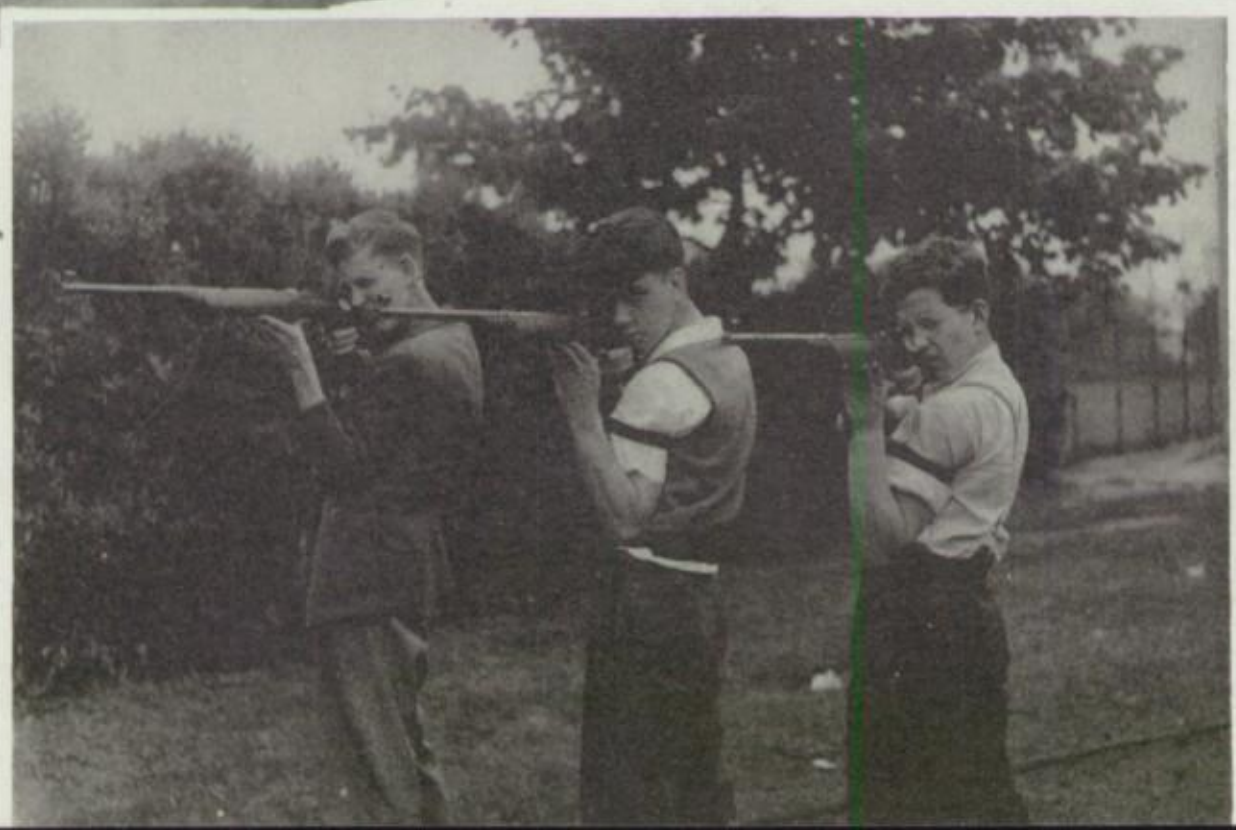
Rifle Team

The end of the 1943 Nassau Interscholastic Rifle League competition found Sewanhaka's nimrods in sixth place, the position they have held all season and the spot they finished in last year.

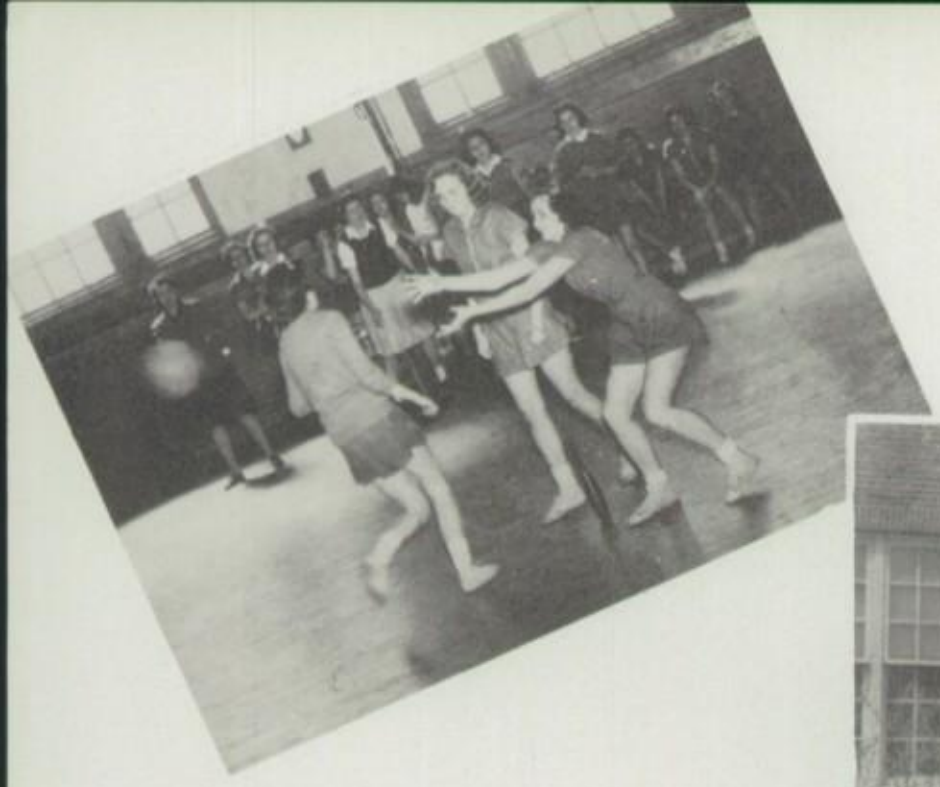
The rifle team won but four of its fourteen matches. This left the squad with an average of .286. Valley Stream, Mepham twice, and Oceanside were the only schools to fall prey to the Indian marksmen. This record left them well behind the pace-setting Hempstead Tigers, who went through the season without a setback.

Bob Bright turned in the best Indian performance when he shot a possible against Valley Stream. He proved to be the only Brave to hit the century mark all season. Other members of the squad were Ed Barrow, Al Deitrich, Jim Denning, John Koenig, Charles Betancourt and Bob Gens.

Over the past few years the squad has had three coaches. The first of the trio was Mr. Kenneth Skidmore, now in the armed service. Mr. Craig Palen, also in the armed service, took over the reigns of the team last year. This season Mr. Mercer Williams took over the job left vacant by Palen's departure.



Girls' Sports



During the past year the girls have had many opportunities in sports and other gym activities.

In the months of Autumn the girls went in for Hockey, Horseback Riding, Soccer, also Badminton and Field Hockey.

The Winter brought still more enjoyable sports and good times. Basketball was extremely popular while Volley Ball, Ping Pong and Bowling ran a close second in popularity. Although we didn't have any real Varsity games there were many good times had by all.

In the Spring time there was much repetition of the sports which we enjoyed in the Autumn. We found Hockey coming along with Badminton. Soft Ball was a new game played in the Spring. Also Baseball made its appearance.

The Girls' Athletic Club was active once again this year and accomplished a number of things.

The Archery Club was organized for all the girls interested in that sport. The girls met frequently and held a number of contests. The Club was a mem' er of the National Archery Association.

Horseback riding was one of the most popular sports of the year. Many girls took advantage of this opportunity and went to Hempstead Lake State Park. Here they were given instruction according to their needs.

The equivalent of varsity football for the girls is soccer. Each fall those interested join teams in an elimination tournament.

Girls' Sports

Tennis attracted many girls in the Spring and the Fall of the year. The entire group was divided into three classes, novices, intermediates, and advanced. The beginners were out purely for instructions while the intermediates had a tournament. The advanced players opposed each other in matches under U.S.L. T.A. rules.

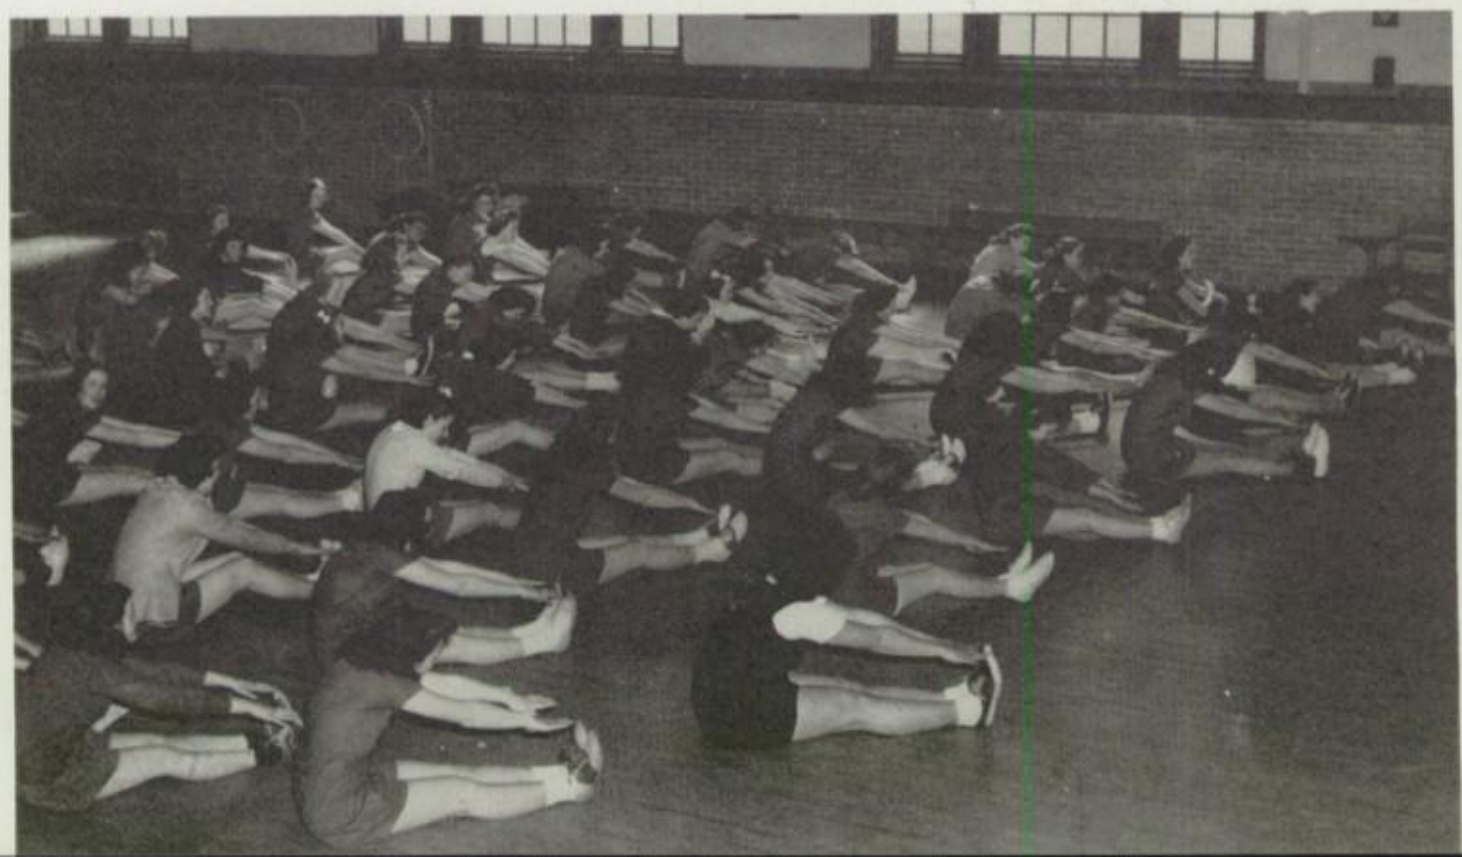
Badminton was a sport in which very few girls were interested. Miss Smith, the advisor, attempted to encourage boys as well as girls to play the game.

This year bowling played an important role in sports. A number of girls who were interested joined this activity and went to the Tulip Avenue bowling alley, under the supervision of Miss Smith.

Hockey was definitely a favorite sport this year. With the instruction of Mrs. Conklen, two girls, Inez Smith and Margaret Uhl, were honored by being asked into the Long Island Hockey League.

When school is over in June sports continue in the summer time for most of us. Sewanhaka and its gym teachers have arranged it so that the students may still carry on the sports that they so well enjoyed during their school year. During the summer months the gym teachers devote their time so that they may please the Braves and Squaws. The teachers take the interested students on hikes, swimming parties, picnics and many other enjoyable activities.

Sports is in urgent need to help win this war. They help America's people by building morale and maintaining physical fitness.



Ticket Committee

The Ticket Committee offers invaluable service to the school by selling tickets for football games, plays, revues and all other affairs held at Sewanhaka. As a service organization the Ticket Committee ranks among the highest in school. The officers were president, Jack Redican; vice-president, Clarence French; secretary, Audrey Jung, and treasurer, Muriel Nurnberger. Mr. Hayden Allen was the adviser.

Boys' Intramural Sports

Intramural sports at Sewanhaka, though hindered somewhat by the war, remained an integral part of the physical education program. They were designed to offer keen competition to the skilled non-varsity players, and to give the unexperienced boys an opportunity to learn sports.

The boys' fall intramural sports program offered elimination tournaments in handball, tennis, and ping pong. Besides these, horseback riding was organized as an instructional and recreational activity.

In the winter, basketball took the spotlight and senior home room 221 defeated all comers to take the championship. Those interested engaged in ping pong and bowling. A bowling team was formed which entered several matches but it was discontinued because of transportation difficulties.

The spring schedule merely repeated the fall program.

Boys participating in intramural competition are awarded four-inch letters for earning 1500 points as follows: team games each boy 150 points on winning team, 100 points on the losing team; individual competition 100 points to winner, 50 points to loser.
